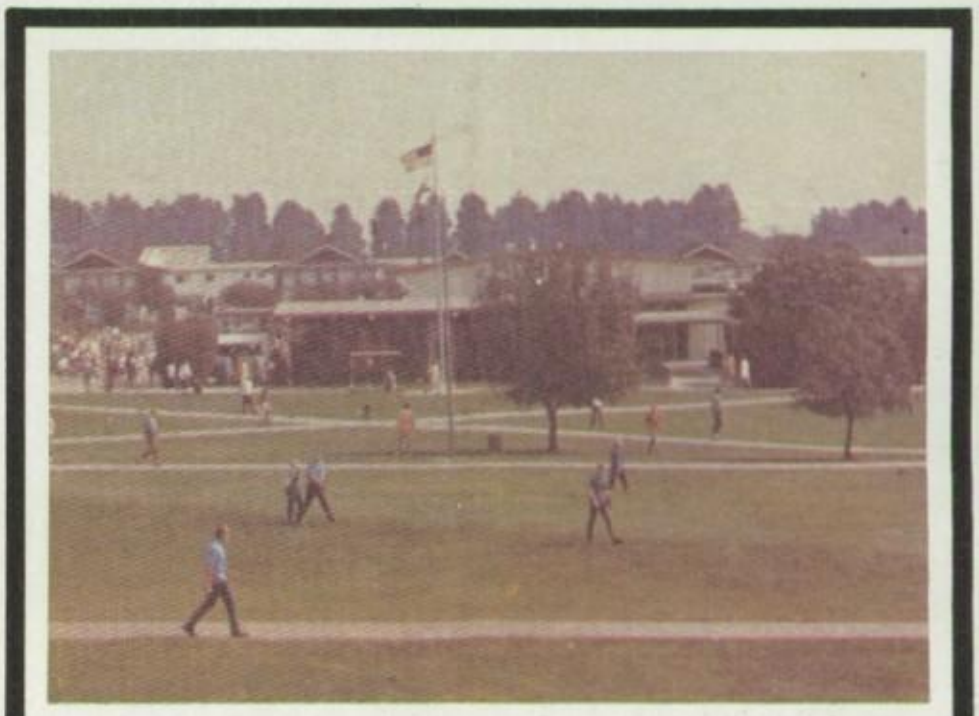
1965 saw real grass and trees dotting the campus.

Upland High's Old Faces, New Versions

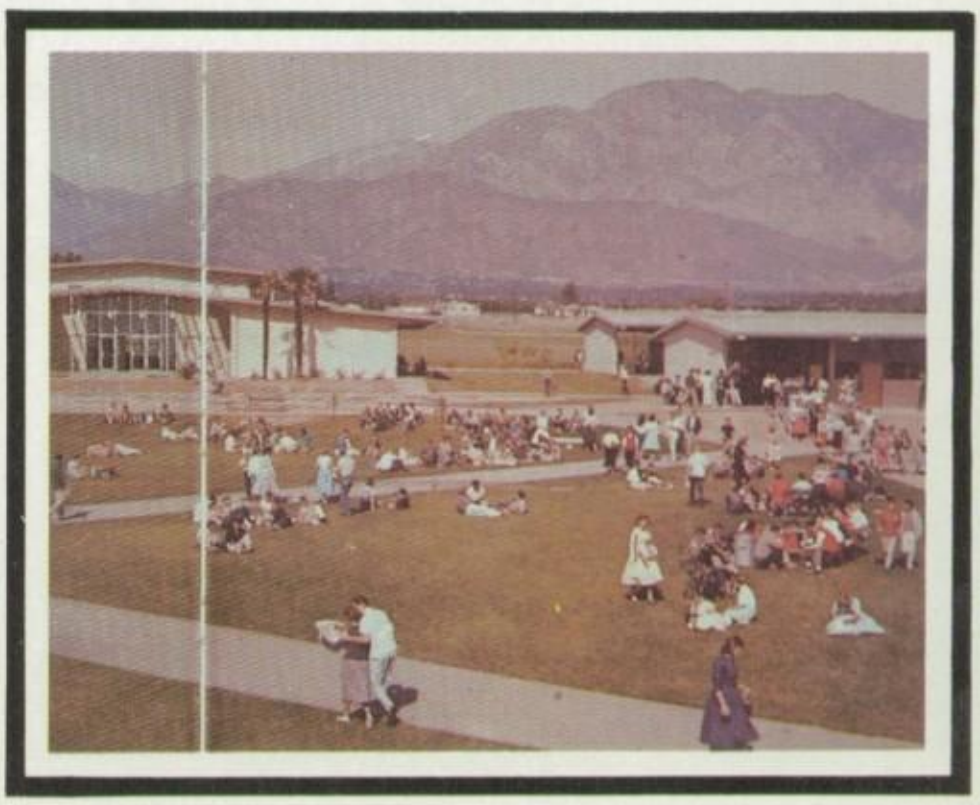
Upland Students moved from Chaffey High School to their own newly built campus in September 1955. The school opened with only the administration building, the library, rooms one through thirty-four and a student body of only freshmen and sophomores.

In the fall of 1956 the sophomores became juniors, and by the summer of 1958 they became the first graduating class of Upland High School.

The twenty-two years that followed saw many changes not only in the face of the campus but in the faces that passed through its doors during those years. This book is dedicated to all those people past and present.

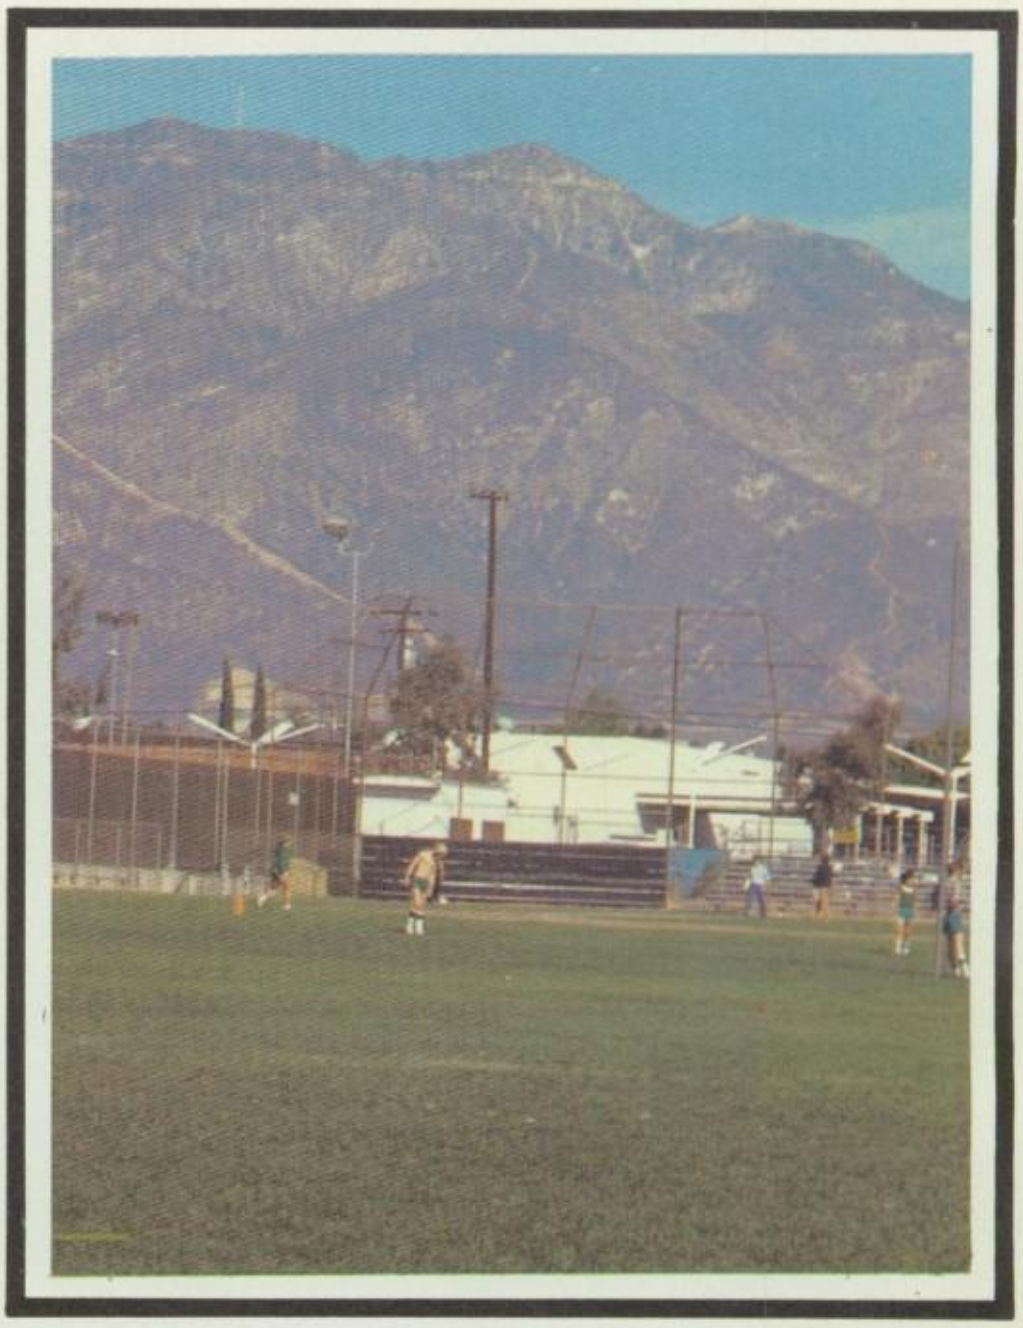


The 1969 landscape was almost identical to the grounds we know today.

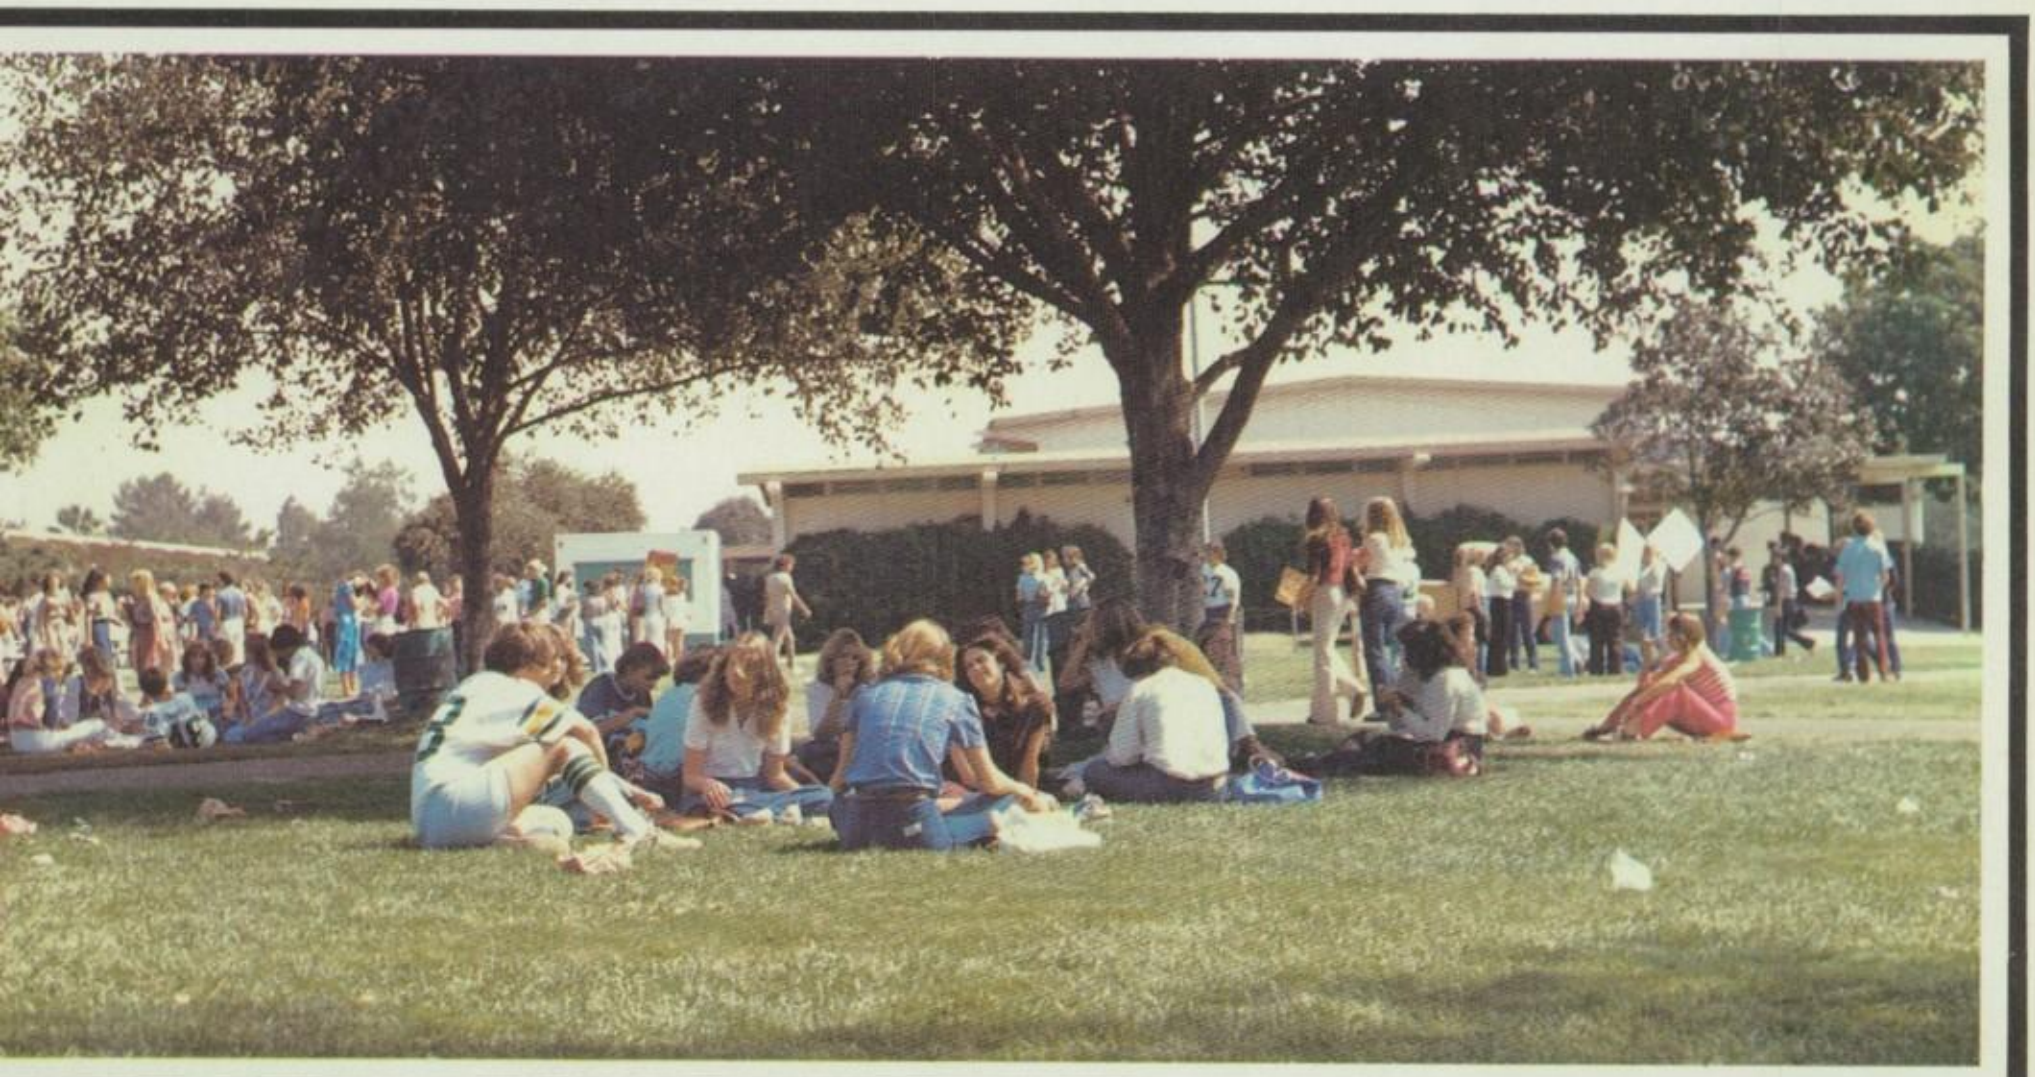


From 1959 to 1980, the mountains are the only sight that remain the same.

The campus now seems to stretch to the mountains.



The original library has grown with the campus.



Trees and students fill the campus after twenty-five years of growth.

Upland's Ins and Outs

In the midst of a one hundred and seven degree heat wave, school opened on September tenth with the students beginning their two-hundred and fifty-one day struggle towards June. 1979-1980 was a special year for the Upland Highlanders both inside-outside Upland. The Campus soared with enthusiasm as the entire student body was inspired by the spirit to get involved.

The support of activities was tremendous as shown by the crowded football stadium, standing room only at rallies, and incognito students on special dress up days. Yet, the individual proved his own academic interest as classes were well attended, and educational programs such as political debates, mock marriages and ROP, received outstanding recognition. The outcome of these events both indoors and outdoors was everything from insane to outrageous. The non-participating students seemed to be outnumbered. Spirit was back in the Highlanders.

Seniors, Outwardly the Class With Class

The Seniors were really "Soarin High" after they won recognition for Best class float in the Homecoming Parade.

Throughout the year the Seniors continued to live up to their motto, "The class with class," with their impressively docorated float, their trend setting fashions, the lavish Winter Formal and elegant yearbook attire.

Graduation brought out the reality that decisions about college, careers and perhaps marriage must soon be made. Seniors had been standing out in the crowd. Could they fit in the world?

Seniors relax after spending forty-seven hours of hard work on the senior homecoming float.

If you can go forth in this world and make something of your life,
If you can meet with defeat
and triumph and greet both with equal vigor,
If you can rise above the petty rumors that smother others or reach out to someone who needs a hand,
If you can come face to face with reality and admit its presence and go on,
If you can greet all who come through your life with a smile and not let them steer you from your original course,
Then you are ready, my friend, to go out and live for yourself on your own two feet.

You Know You're a Senior When . . .

Wanda Juzefezyk and Maryellen Elrich — You can act like a freshman and get away with it.

Nancy Meyers — You don't know half of the people in the school anymore.

Jeff Monroe — You're not considered a squirrel, just a damn radical.

Debbie Godt — Your parents keep reminding you that you'd better plan on doing something after high school because you're not going to live at home forever.

Kenneth Doswell — A senior girl jumps on your back for going out with a freshman girl.

Andy Pumerantz — The freshmen look like they haven't reached puberty yet.

Ronda Smith — The freshmen think you're NEAT!

Sheila Boucher — Graduation day rolls around and you're wearing your cap and gown.

Jay Robnett — The number on your sleeve is lower than all the others.

Barry Winter — You realistically count the time until you graduate.

Brenda Neifert — The school food starts tasting good; you know you've been here too long!

Kris Kleinman — You have to stay home on Friday night because you're taking the S.A.T. at 8:30 Saturday morning.

Mary Morton — The future is too close, yet too far away.

Lois Mitchell — College applications are suddenly due.

Patti Trudeau — You're trying to cram all your credits in and raise your G.P.A.

Jill Taylor — Your teachers start treating you like a person.

Sue Kaichen — You look at the freshmen and wonder if you were like that, and you fill out application, after application, after application . . .

Cheryl Murphey — You get to scramble ahead of everyone else.

Connie Bergmark — You can openly disagree with a teacher and not turn red.

The fantastic tackling techniques used by Upland to capture CIF glory are used by Rick Carta to capture Tara Hornburg.

During one of their usual meetings, Pat Ho, Laura Lewis, David Ikeda and Karen Kartun conduct business.

Officers Make 1980 Seniors' Best Year

Coordinating activities for a class about six hundred and twenty-three vacious seniors was an important sponsibility.

Even though the ambition to reinste senior lawn and return senior priledges was unsuccessful, due to lack support, the council organized ents that were highlighted with the Homecoming Float, the Winter Dance, Senior Breakfast, and special senior affairs.

Led by Laura Lewis, the Senior Class Officers worked hard to make this year a significant and well remembered one for the class of 1980.

Senior Words of Wisdom

Cheri Lemon demonstrates good blocking techniques needed to get to class.

After being questioned as to why they were out of class, seniors discuss removal of the senior privilege card with Mrs. Bette Harrison.

Craig Henderson — Some they do and some they don't and some you just can't tell, some they will and some they won't and some it's just as well.

Karen Phelps — Grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, the strength to change the things I can, and the wisdom to know the difference.

Kaurene Angel — Beware of the pop quizes in Mr. Raisbeck's class.

Robin Broome — Do unto others — then split!

Steve Curtis — There's a difference between a man who wants a book to read, and a man who wants to read a book.

Kristin Cederland — I love it!

Dwayne (Dewey) Witzmann — Somebody's gonna hurt someone . . .

Bonnie Carter — Hold tight to your dreams; for if dreams die, life is like a broken winged bird that cannot fly.

Ed Coryell — If you ever meet a person like Anne Fischer, shoot her!

Gilbert Pantoja — I wish I could start school over!

Beatrice Giordano — Je t'aime.

Diana Pacheco — The beginning is the beginning, but where is the future, where does it lie?

Connie Hickman — Nothing is as easy as it looks. Everything takes longer than you expect. If anything can go wrong—it will, at the worst possible moment.

Tracy Adkins — If you work to the top and don't slack off, you may lay in the green stuff.

Heading for senior testing, Chris Jaska goes over 4 years of accumulated knowledge.

Bill Kaiser and Sherri Noggles find it hard to say goodbye, but seniors find goodbyes even harder at the end of the year.

New to Upland High School their senior year, Alirez Norouzi and Karen Temple share their xperiences.

Bob Tarrow — Spend your money with your needs, unemployment is going up!
Kristy Lynn Kohler — Don't get mad. Get even!
Shelley Warnick — There can be no rainbow without clouds and a storm.
Bob Mohan — Don't stick you finger in the mud.
Linnie Wessberg — Be happy and smile.
Connie Sullivan — Live and love each day, for it may be your last.
Sandy Short — You can tune a piano, but you can't tun-a-fish.
Sir Spiderman — Yea, this is "Bootsy", and I'm all the way live, hip, tall and single and talking plenty of Jive.
Mike Ems — Don't ever give up.
Llisa Partaker — Eight-O way to go!
Dave Bryan — Remember always to Rock n' Roll.
Carrie Brown — Take life easier.
Kathy Paprocki — When putting someone on a pedestal, first be sure that they'll be able to sit there.
Karen Baxter — I was tardy because the bell rang before I got to class.
Chris McCormick — This school is alright, but the food has got to go.
Teresa Palomo — Get off your . . . and work, work, work!
Wanda Juzefczyk — Life's too short to stay still too long.
Ed Book — Control your mind, and you will control your life.
Tammy Livings — Think about where you are headed in life, and go out and accomplish those goals you might have.
John Johnson — S.D.R. & R. forever!
Ron Auzenns — Own a Mustang 'cause Mustangs rule. It walks, it talks, it crawls on its belly like a reptile.
Bill Kaiser — Don't worry about it.
Tammy Dulaney — You are never given a dream without also being given the power to make it come true.
Missy Connelly — You give me a rash.
Mark Alan Booth — I am the way, and the truth, and the life; no one comes to the father but through Me. John 14:6
Ken Busby — Omlette du fromage.
Heidi Miller — Live each day as if it were your last, for there may not be a tomorrow.
Roger Zottneck — Upland Varsity Football Rules!
Greg Yoshie — If you are short, you better be fast.
John Drake — It's a beautiful day in the neighborhood. (Mr. Rogers)
Cecilia Bello — Who we are and what we become is determined by those who love us.
Lisa Mahi — Dream what you want to dream; Go where you want to go; Be what you want to be . . . LIVE!
Laura Lewis — What appears to be the end, may really be a new beginning.

Seniors leave with Enthusiasm and High Hopes

The 1980's brought a new era of uncertainty. No one was quite sure of what to expect from this futuristic decade.

The class of '80 was the first of a new breed. They were forced to make vital decisions in a world of rapid change. Inflation escalated at a rate of 14% a year; tempers flared over the Iranian situation; and gas crisises occured on a regular basis, all of which lead to an unstable economy and an uncertain future.

Graduates could not be sure that the decisions they made today were permanent. Should they get a job or go to college? Would their future be more secure with a college degree or pumping gas? Many saw college as a natural step after high school, but in reality, many may be forced to work instead.

The majority of this year's graduates leaned towards the business and medical professions. Others chose fields such as forestry, interior design, aviation, communications and architecture.

However, a few had very specific plans for their future. John Shmolt — I would like to run in the Nascar circuit.
Chris Sundberg — Become a billionaire, own 3 houses, 15 cars, 3 dogs, a cat and a parakeet.
Anne Fisher — To be the first woman president of Bank of America.
Mary Rawle — To be on the Pro Racquetball tour.
Dave Pichotta — Own my own auto trim shop and race anything.
Mark Yeager — Go into the ministry and do youth work, and serve God.
Steve Frame — To be a disc jockey and a bartender.

The future may have looked vague, but the Seniors of 1980 left Upland High School with enthusiasm and high hopes.

Ann Farr heads to the student store to stock upon the soon to be forbidden "junk food".

Chris Nowak, Tom Domonoski, and Tom Mason pledge to faithfully turn in their homework in Mr. Rhodes Senior Honors English class.

Seven minutes is plenty of time for Barry Lovingood and Jeff Harrison to talk about weekend activities.

Yes, Upland Highlanders are outgoing! Activities flourished as never before, when the entire student body increased their participation.

In addition to annual scheduled events such as Homecoming, Backwards, Spirit Week and Donkey Basketball, students were given the opportunity to be active in Freshman Day, Halloween dress up day and entertaining assemblies.

OUTGOING

A 'Spirit'-ed Week

Costumes, hula dancers, cowboys, green and white freakies and crazy tourists were what made October 8-12, Homecoming week, an outstanding success.

Hundreds of different costumes coordinating with many events were what brought school spirit to an all-time high. Dressing for Aloha day, Spirit day, Cowboy day, Tourist day and Safari day seemed to be the new craze that hit Upland High School.

If dressing up to a special day theme wasn't your piece of cake, participating in an event might have been.

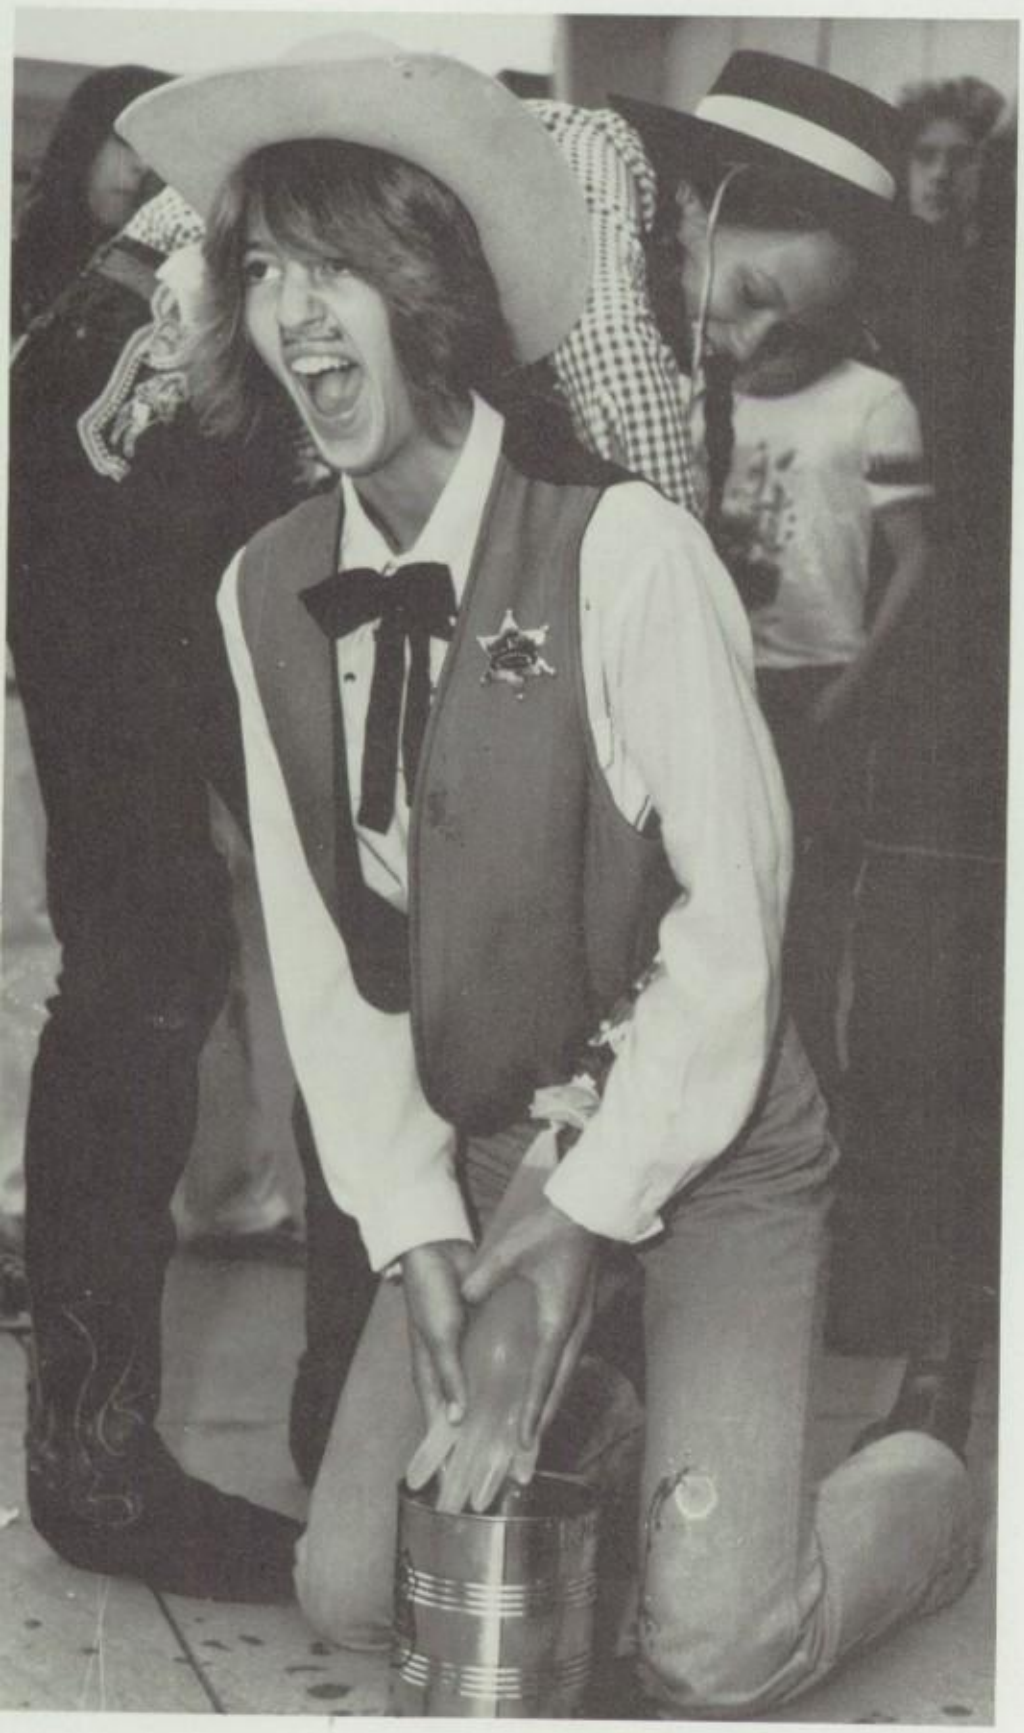
Hula hoop freaks were in seventh heaven during the hula hoop contest. Closet banana fanatics gourged themselvs openly in the banana eating contest. Contestants willingly allowed themselves to be milked via water balloon on cowboy day and class tugs-of-war saw 90 pound weaklings become "Macho Men".

▼ Taking time out from their busy schedules, these tourists stop to pose for the cameras.

▲ Randy Swenson gorges to beat the rest in the banana eating contest.

▶ A good old fashioned game of tug-of-war never seems to get outdated.

◀ Winners of the best dressed contest on Aloha day.



▲ Speedy fingers and quick hands are what it takes to get the coconut from one end of the line to the other as demonstrated by Kim McKinney.

◀ Wendy Bullard desperately removes her balloon after losing the cow milking contest on Cowboy Day.

Homecoming Royalty

▼ Tina Interlicchia cries tears of happiness after being crowned Homecoming queen.

▲ Candidates for Homecoming court wait to be announced at a lunchtime rally.

As the last of the cars arrived, and the stadium lights dimmed, the noise of the crowd became a low muffle . . .

When the stadium had darkened, a special spotlight switched on and the Homecoming court was illuminated with five sparkling princesses standing with their fathers.

Two weeks earlier, thirty-six girls were nominated for Homecoming court. After a week of campaigning, the student body voted for five girls to be Uplands court.

At 2:30, on Friday, the mood seemed to be of extreme anxiety and anticipation as all the nominees waited for the answer to see if they made court. Melinda Bowen, ASB president, came into the cafeteria with the news as to who had made it. The five finalists turned out to be, Kim Estabrook, Tina Interlicchia, Mary McLeod, Maureen Minnock and Annie West.

If the first week of campaigning was hectic, the second proved to be downright nerve wrecking. Each of the five girls had to make and maintain her many posters, handbills, and banners. They had their pictures taken for the football game Friday. The girls were kidnapped early Wednesday morning and were taken to Alphy's Restaurant for breakfast.

Finally, the big moment came. The girls were announced in the order they had been voted for, Kim Estabrook, Maureen Minnock, Annie West, first attendant Mary McLeod, and 1979 Homecoming queen, Tina Interlicchia.

People screamed, horns sounded, and balloons were released as 1978 Homecoming queen, Rhonda Guiles, placed the delicate crown on queen Tina's head.

▶ Finding no room on the dance floor, Dickie Chapman and Robin Bennett give their feet a well-deserved rest.

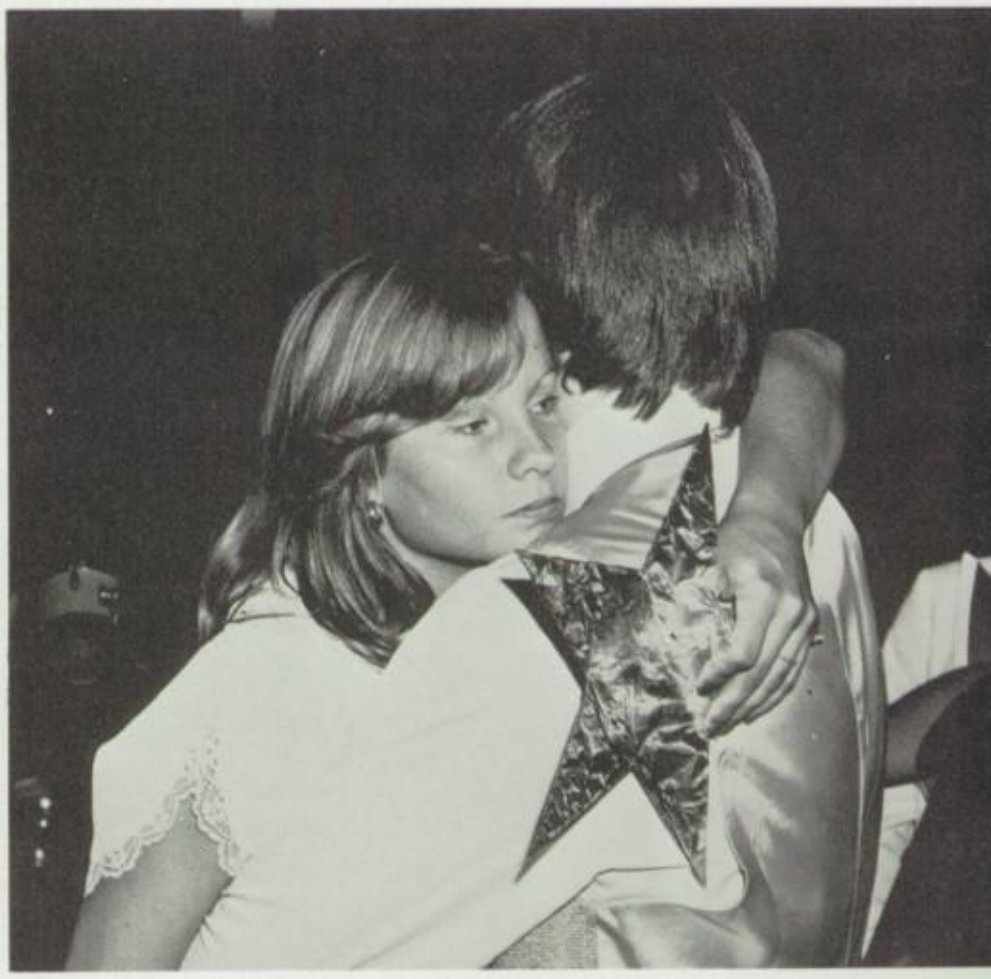
▶ Off in her own world, Cherie Lemon doesn't seem to notice all the other dancers around her as she takes a break from the fast dances with a slow one.



Dèjá Vú

Tradition, competitive drive, and funloving spirit-filled the stadium as the fans made the 1979 Homecoming theme come to life.

The Varsity Football team made a spectacular entrance, bursting through the "Upland Cut Down Royal Oak Timber" banner amid the cheers of the enthusiastic crowd.

Royal Oak did not cooperate, handing the Scots one of their two defeats this season.

Defeat did not dampen the Highlanders' positive outlook, and on Saturday night disappointed fans put on their dancing shoes and danced away their sorrows to the sound of "Heaven".

Couples lined up between dances to have their twosomes captured forever in color pictures and then moved to the refreshment table to regain the energy lost on the dance floor.

The official festivities ended at 11:30, but parties continued long into the night, making a memorable Homecoming.

◀ Ta-Dah!!!

▲ Keeping down the fizz was only one of the many duties of S-Club volunteer, Lucia Paz, during the Homecoming dance.

◀ Close moments were common for many besides princess, Mary McLeod, because of the overall atmosphere of a fun night.

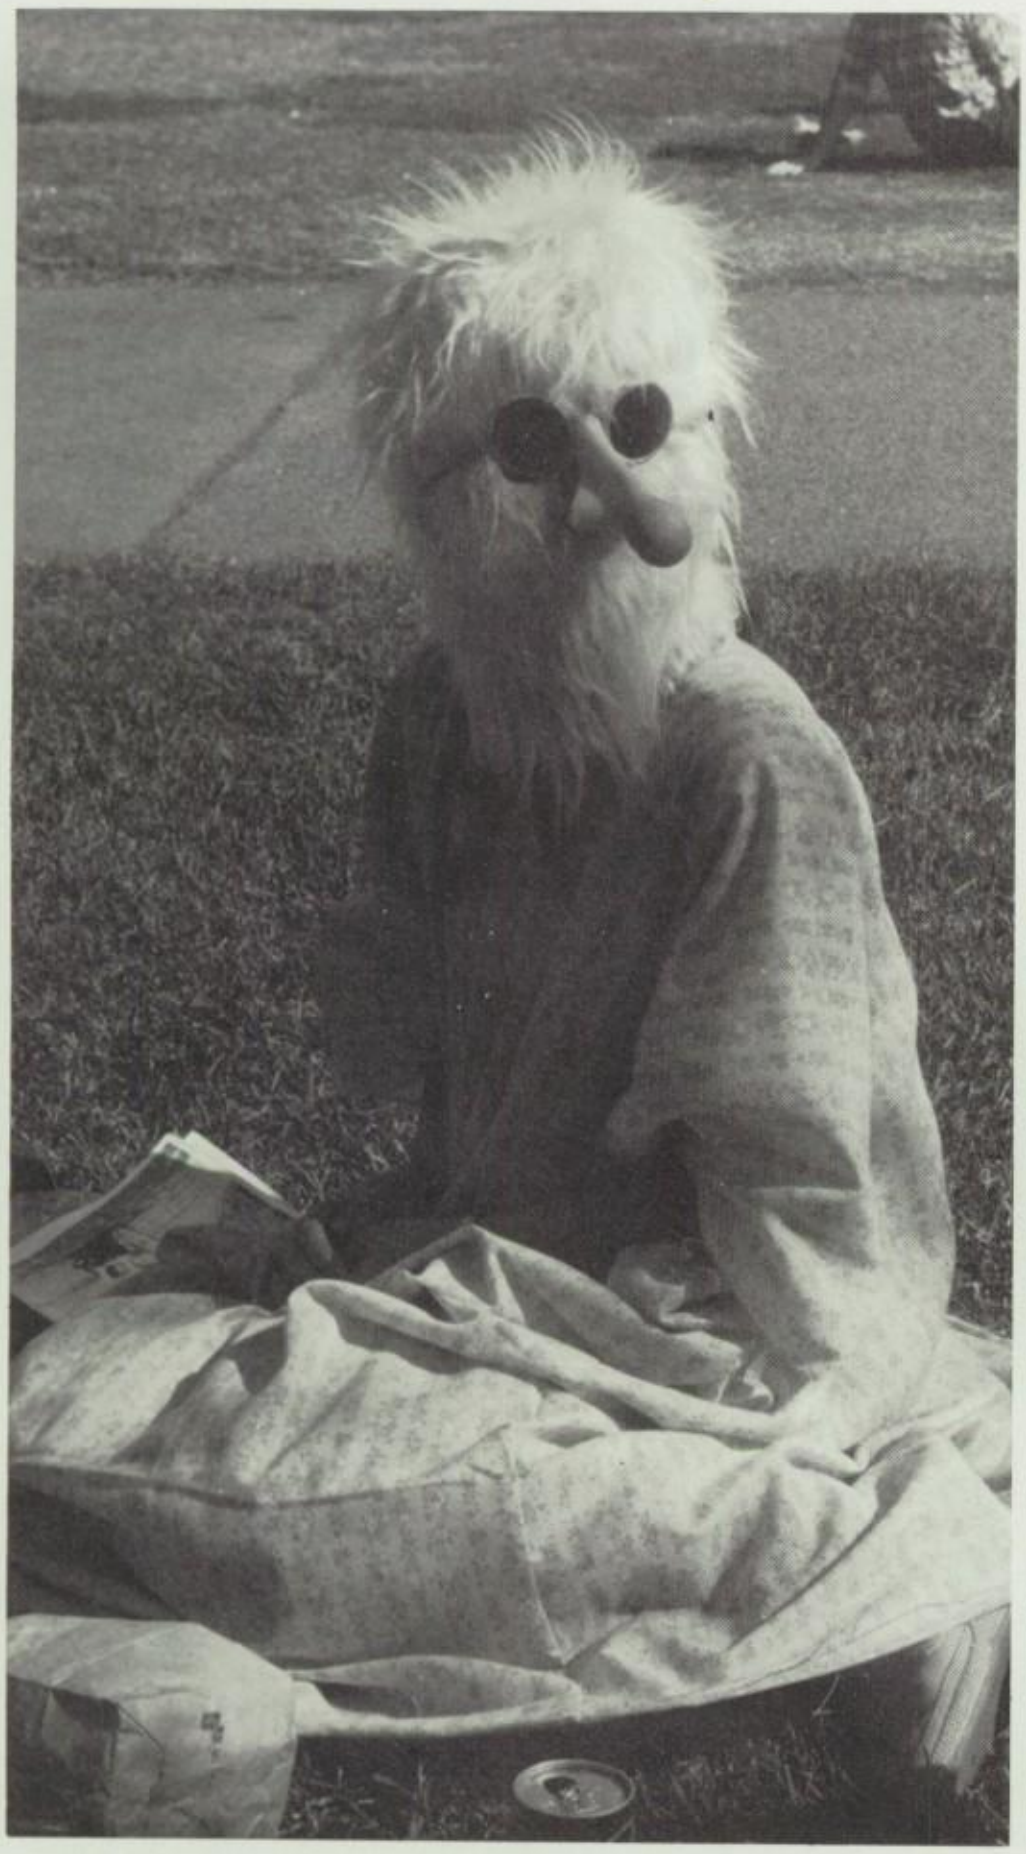
Inconspicuous? No Outrageous

▶ Heather Beggs prepares early for Easter.

▼ Coming out of the closet as a junk food junkie, Heidi Skavarna downs another Super Shake.

▲ Some students will forget anything on the lawns.

▲ Finding the local pet store out of parrots, John Elliot settles for a chicken.



Ghosts, goblins and witches weren't the only things haunting Upland High School on October 31.

Different versions of typical characters paraded from class to class on this bewitching day. Playboy bunnies and baby dolls were two of the most common choices of costumes for girls while pirates seemed to be popular for the guys.

Even though Halloween wasn't an official dress up for Upland, many students, and teachers participated in the excitement of living out their fantasies.

Sandy beaches, palm trees, warm sunshine, and whispering breezes was the mood that Girls' League anticipated for the 1979 backwards.

As November 17 arrived, the "Hawaiian Paradise" atmosphere dwindled as the weather dropped to a mere fifty degrees.

Putting aside the thought of chilly weather, couples crowded into the Chaffey College Cafeteria in a multitude of colors.

Activities such as the marriage booth, looking for names on decorated paper pineapples, and socializing were just a few things couples could do. In addition the band "Flite" played music for all that wished to listen and dance.

She's Not Daddy's Little Girl Anymore

Under the stars at the El Prado Country Club, fathers gathered with their daughters on the thirteenth of October for the Father Daughter Banquet, whose theme was "Daddy, I Love You."

The evening's highlight was the first annual "Father of the Year" award presented to James E. Murphey. His daughter Cheryl, won the honor for writing what the judges considered the outstanding essay on her father's virtues.

Girls' League had many activities planned for the evening. Most popular was the leg contest where daughters had to recognize their fathers' legs. Various legs participated, and many remained unidentified.

Girls' League President, Rhonda Nasuta, summed up the evening saying, "It was spectacular! I was really happy with the outcome. The greatest thing was the way everyone enjoyed themselves."

Sobbing tears of sorrow, Leonie Asterbilt (Heidi Stark) learns that Monroe Murgatroyd will not marry her because of her mother's reputation.

Ida is murdered by Mrs. Asterbilt who gloats in revenge "There I triumph! She will never torment me again!"

The villian, Monroe Murgatroyd, dies in his own trap; Adam and Nellie pledge their love for one another once again; Little Nel finds that she really has a father; and Ida Rhinegold has saved the day. As the curtain falls, they all live happily ever after.

It was hard to believe that what started out as a disaster turned into a spectacular success. The Senior Class Officers were faced with many problems this year in setting up the Winter Dance, "Moonlight and Mistletoe". There was much controversy in the date, place, band and dress code; even the thought of cancelling the event altogether wasn't too far from anyone's mind.

When Saturday, December fifteenth finally did arrive, the gloomy atmosphere gave way when the decorating committee developed that good old fashioned holiday spirit. The festivities began at 8:30 in the Norconian Club at the Corona Fleet Analysis Center. As the clock struck 10:30, the Winter Court, consisting of Eileen Meyer, Bonnie Carter, and Dea Roumelitios, assembled on the stage for the crowning of the 1979 Winter queen Eileen Meyer.

One dance goer summed up the general feelings of the 100 couples in attendance; "The band 'Elefante' was and the crowd wasn't the usual radicals. It was a very enjoyable evening."

Mid-Winter Madness

And that's what it was, sheer madness.

During this time of the year it should have been cool and more than likely raining. But no, we live in Southern California where the weather is always doing strange things.

The week before Winter recess, a person couldn't tell whether it was time for summer vacation or not. The sun was shining; the air was crystal clear and there was a mild Santa Ana condition. But since it was December, many people were mentally inclined to dress to fit the month, not the weather. Some dressed with down jackets, but then there were the more sensible people who wore O.P. shorts and surfers shoes.

The strangeness of the weather brought out the strangeness of many people. Some guys returned to their childhood by climbing trees which most of them hadn't done since they were in the fourth grade. In general, people just acted crazy.

Another thing that was mad, was the fact that the seagulls returned during this week. Normally they left during the fall months and weren't seen until late March or early April with the exception of those few loony birds.

Even though the attitude of many people was more than radical, most were just looking forward to the holiday season.

Traditional Spirit and Enthusiasm

Spirit was sky high, as the enthusiastic highlanders pushed and shoved their way into the gym for the 1979-1980 pep rallies. Each rally, under the supervision of pep commissioner Mia Girard, was designed with a different style and purpose. They were held for seasonal sports and special activities. The traditional class competition and pep squad skits and routines were put together to entertain and boost team morale.

The Essence of Learning

More went on in the classrooms of Upland High than reading, writing and arithmatic. Students learned through involvement and participation. Mr. Stewart's class gained first hand knowledge of politics from mock rallies. Modern dancers performed at assemblies. Students in the Creative Meals course tested their delicacies on faculty and themselves. There was even a course offered called Marriage and Family that helped students prepare for their lives ahead. These academic and elective classes taught students how to survive in the outside world.

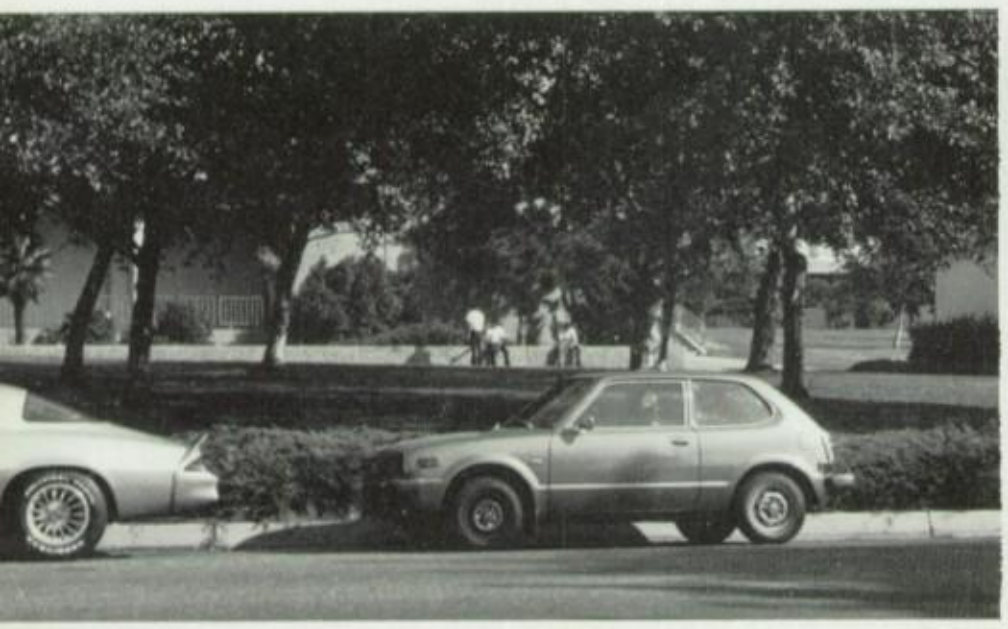
Brains vs Brawn

A member of the Upland High School Lettermen's club receives the ball. He jumps on his donkey, and away they gallop down court. The player is about to go up for the slam dunk when, all of a sudden, the referee blows his whistle. "Hey, I didn't commit any foul!" shouts the letterman. "No, but your donkey did." Sure enough, someone had to take out the super-dooper-pooper-scooper and clean up after the donkey.

After a grueling, bronco-busting game, the Upland Police Department remained victorious for a fifth consecutive game over the Lettermen. In sudden death overtime play, the police proved once again that they were the better team, 36-34.

No Place to Park

The auto population at Upland peaked with 720 parking permits distributed, and only 330 spaces available to the students. Last summer, residents fought to keep students from parking in front of their homes and the residents won. Special permits were required to park on those side streets near the school. Students who parked in one of the school lots or on a side street without a permit, risked a visit from one of our friendly Upland police officers. The lot filled so fast in the mornings, and the line up San Antonio was so long, that students found themselves with a new excuse for their tardy slips. "I couldn't find a place to park!"



Cafeteria's New Look

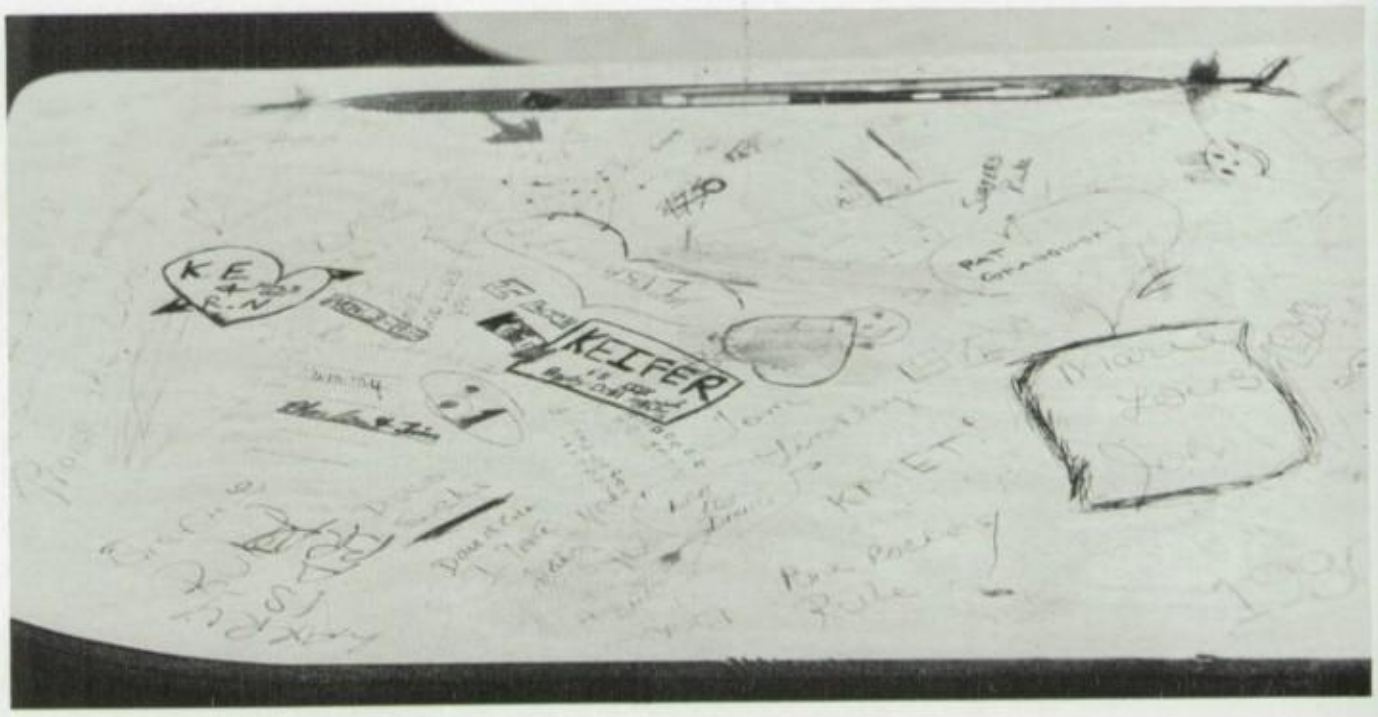
With more students having to stay on campus, lunches at Upland became excessively crowded. The elimination of the Senior Privilege Card kept most seniors from leaving; and with the proctors guarding the campus exits, fewer than usual took the risk of leaving.

The students that stayed had a lot to say about the cafeteria food. (none of it good) So in hopes of increasing satisfaction, a make-your-own salad bar was added to the menu. It was so popular, it became a permanent fixture.

Funny Money

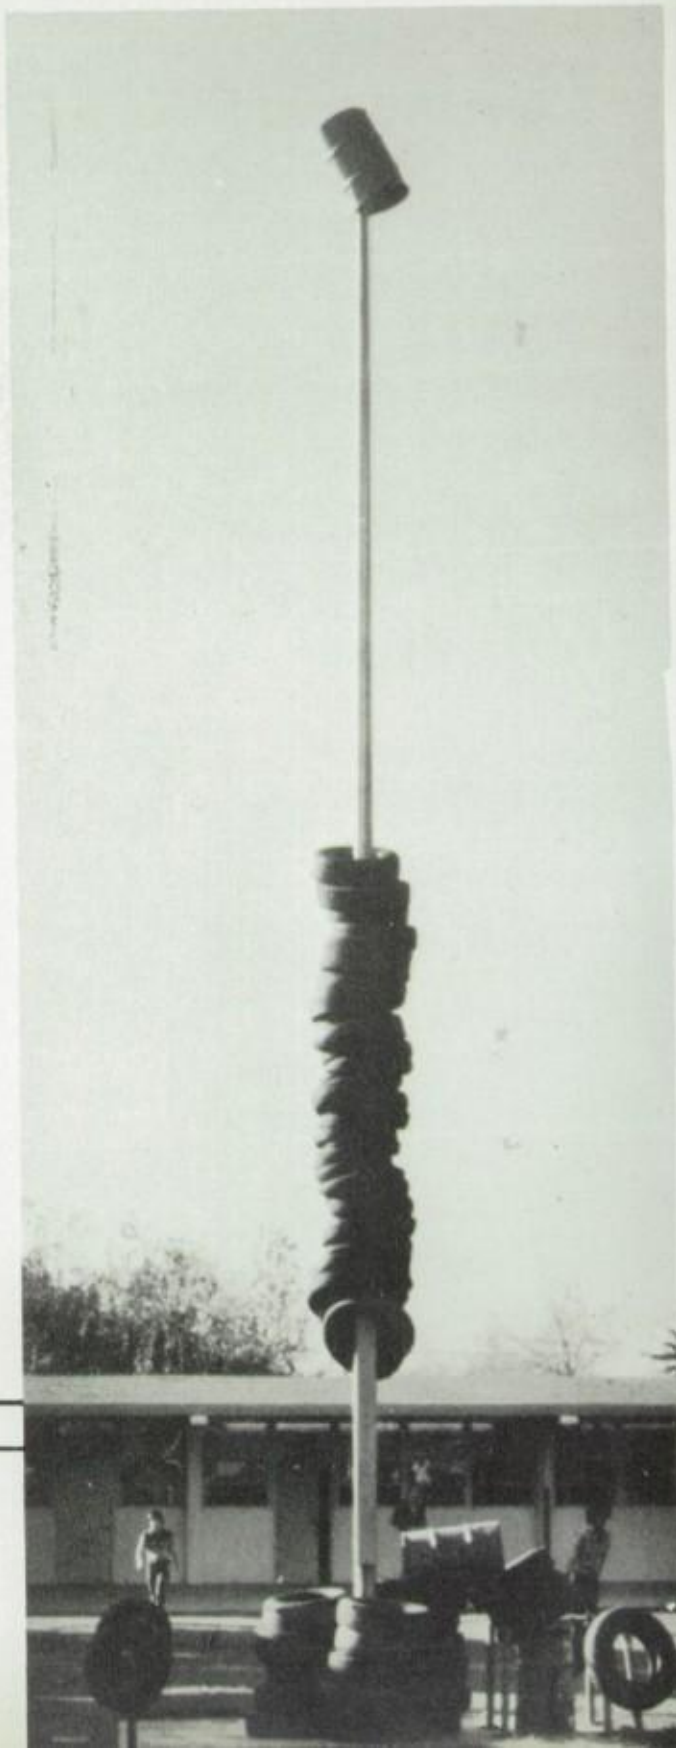
▶ After twenty years of growing, this palm went up in smoke in three minutes.

▼ Some people think, "Why use paper when you can use the desk top."



▲ Many Upland students were upset when spray paint appeared on the skier.

▶Pranksters spent their evening stacking tires instead of doing their homwework.



▼ The last remains of the trash cans that spelled out Pranksters 80.

Everyone loves a good joke. unfortunately, at a time when school income is being drastically reduced, the kind of pranks portrayed on these pages can be very costly. After the laughter drifts away on the wind, the burned folage on trees and the paint soaked into concrete and brick remains. The situations where physical property has not been damaged, groundsmen and other maintenance personnel are still required to spend valuable man-hours trying to restore safety and order.

Upland High School needs many things — paint and repair in most classrooms and on building exteriors, a central restroom facility, repair to our asphalt walkways, a cover for the lunch area, handball courts — the list could go on and on. The dollars expended to pick up the trash which students leave behind at the lunch periods could be spent to improve our facility. Instead, those dollars are wasted because several hundred students can't take the time to walk by a trash can.

It would be really funny to come to school some morning and find that pranksters had made a positive contribution instead of a negative one. The results might not be as humorous, but it would certainly be a way to demonstrate Upland pride. Meanwhile, while the school budget is being drained by a few students who find humor in destruction and disorder, the joke is on the rest of us.

It seemed like the 1980 Junior-Senior Powder Puff game would never reach "Kick off", but even the rainy weather couldn't stop the tough Highlander girls from the annual rivalry. The original game was set for Jan. 14 (but due to weather conditions) the game was rescheduled for Feb. 6. Upper class women looked forward to Powder Puff all year, and it was said to be the best thing about being a junior or senior.

The seniors came on strong with Connie Bergmark scoring in the first minutes. Other offensive players who contributed to the senior victory were: Robin Bennett, Karen Stevenson, and Kim Kirkpatrick. The juniors put up a good fight and managed to score a single touchdown, but they were no match for the mighty senior defense. The class of 1980 walked away with a victory of 38-8 over the class of 1981.

1980 was a year of growth and success for the majority of clubs on the Upland campus. Each group's involvement earned their club either the title of Service of Special Interest. Services ranged for sponsoring dances to painting trash cans. To some special interest clubs it meant playing a game on Saturday morning, while to service clubs it meant helping out to raise money for the blind on Sunday afternoon. "S" Club and Girls' League were the most active on campus with monthly projects such as Candy Cane Drives, School Grams, and Flower sales.

Portrait of the yearbook work area after mind boggling deadline.

As We See It

Missing days at the beach for summer meetings, staying up until dawn, changing the theme over and over and over again, horrendous fighting over pictures, staying after school and missing other classes, was only part of the fun of being on the 1979-1980 Hielan Staff.

Our work was not always confined to room 53A. We were seen running all over campus questioning students, bothering faculty, absorbing every bit of vital information we could. Through it all rain, wind, fire, extreme heat and decreasing grades, we never failed to meet our deadlines

The staff, our advisor and a few others are the only ones who actually realize the long hours of work and dedication, behind the scenes needed to put a yearbook together. Everyone inside/outside Upland may never know, but the 79-80 Hielan Staff does.

In this final note we would like to express a special thanks to the staff, our advisor, Mrs. Cindy Little, our Taylor Representative, Mrs. Jane Parmer, and Sanford Studios for their rewarding efforts and contributions supporting us in what we as editors feel is the best yearbook ever!

Student Council ?

What is Student Council?

When students were asked this question, their reply usually ended in "Who knows" Most students were misinformed. Trying to acquaint the student body with the function and activities of student government was one of president Melinda Bowen's goals this year. Striving toward that goal, they met in second period and held council meetings, in which decisions were made as to whom would sponsor sales, dances, etc. Who sponsored Homecoming week, canned food drive, Toys for Tots and other endeavors? Student Council, of course. Many times the effort behind the events was not visible to the student body, but a lot of student council time was devoted to each activity, thereby accomplishing their goals for the 1979-80 year.

We've Got Spirit

UHS's Varsity Flag twirlers played a special role in Highlander spirit and Pep Squad. Their intricate routines were crowd-pleasers at rallies and games. Led by captain Terri Arneson, the Flags were able to think of new moves and twirls to their favorite music.

If Upland students were to choose one person who represented Highlander spirit better than anyone else, it would have to be Mia Girard, Pep Commissioner. Mia capably and enthusiastically led the 1979-80 Pep Squad in cheering for all athletic teams while also fulfilling her responsibilities as an active member of Student Council. Her effective leadership was evident in the squad's well-coordinated moves at games, in the rallies which included every Upland athlete, and in countless other activities which benefited from her interest and time.

UHS's Songs don't necessarily have to know how to sing, but they must know how to execute complicated routines while controlling the pom poms. The six-girl squad participated in rallies and cheered for Uplands' teams at sports events. Half hidden by their green and white pom poms, they could be found during third period and their spare time, learning the routines which entertained the fans all year.

The San Diego Chargers had their "Chicken"; the Tampa Bay Buccaneers had their "Pirate"; and not to be outdone, the Highlanders had Melanie Flanagan and Kris Kohler as Mascots for the 1979-80 season. Melanie, the "Scottie Dog", brought out spirit in the Scots while Kris danced a Scottish jig in the "Fling". The girls put in many hours of hard work promoting spirit for a winning team.

According to Mia Girard, Pep Commissioner, and Natalie Ritter, Pep Squad advisor, the Varsity Yells made this years Pep Squad one of the best ever.

The drill team along with the tall flags displayed their skills on both the field and street in the prestigious Tournament of Champions. With the leadership of drill team captain Lori Schneider and tall flags captain Kerry Malone, their performance was a perfect reflection on the work and assistance given by Mr. Barger and Mr. Sisk. Lori Schneider stated, "There was a lot of enthusium and group effort to make this a better year." Tooting Their Way to the Top

"Over Worked and not enough recognition" was the mutual feeling of Marching Band members. The hours of practice and rehearsals were so long and tedious that sometimes it was wondered if it was all worth it. In the end, of course it was.

Football season ended, but performing did not. The Chaffey College Tournament of Champions took place on December first. "Their routine was original in design and the music was lively" commented a spectator.

Along with the Santa Ana Field Tournament, the band played at Long Beach in the All-Western Band Review and California Band Review plus many other competitions.

Under the direction of Mr. Sisk and Drum Major Eileen Myer the band jumped with talent and the spirit to back it up.

▶ Drum Major Eileen Meyer is credited with raising the spirit and morale of the band.

Musical Memories

Placed in the far corner of the campus, band could be heard every morning, noon, and sometimes night, improving their talents.

The pep band performed at all the football games to bring spirit and morale to onlookers. A lot of extra curricular time was put into this band, since it was not a class.

Like its counterparts, stage band also performed at a number of festivals and competitions. Its attention was focused on lending experience in swing and jazz music to beginning musicians.

Hitting the Key Notes

"Cream of the crop", stated Mr. Sisk about the members of jazz band. "They have improved to the point where they are better than many high school jazz bands." This was the first year the student body sponsored a jazz festival.

Concert Band brought many underclassmen into the world of music. First semester was used to prepare for second semester performances.

All bands made outstanding as well as enjoyable contributions both on the campus and at community affairs.

We've Only Just Begun

"We've Only Just Begun" became the theme for chorus.

Attempting to create a new sound in music was only one of, new choir director, Mr. Barger's goals.

"I enjoy the challege of a new school and working with students in the program," he expressed.

Under his direction were Mixed Chorus, Harmony Chorus, A Cappella and Vocal Ensemble. The groups performed at festivals, assemblies and concerts.

It All Comes Together in the Clubs

Cookies Galore

Who baked all the cookies you saw and ate at the dances?

You guessed it, 'S' club. Averaging 7000 homemade cookies throughout the year was a tough job, but club president, Cheryl Hanson, kept them baking. 'S' club not only baked cookies, they were the major service club on campus. Willing to give free time to work for their school and community, they raised money to donate to a school project. The "traditional" activity of making and selling candy canes was a big success, as more than 4000 were sold.

For 'S' club, "fun" also included working booths at Halloween parties at Magnolia Recreation Center. "The kids were great. They participated in every game and even threw wet sponges at members."

Selling See's candy during winter recess to benefit the American Cancer Society and coloring and drawing colorful and creative Thanksgiving and Easter place-mats for convalescent hospitals also were some of the many activities. "A meaningful way for girls to get involved in their school and community" summarized Mrs. Quoss, advisor of 'S' club, about this unique club.

They're Active All Year Long

Under the energetic leadership of Girls' League advisor, Mr. Meza and president Rhonda Nasuta, a successful carnation sale and a colorful float at Homecoming started another spirited year for Girls' League. One fund raiser consisted of selling candygrams for each holiday season. Highlanders bought the 'grams,' wrote a message inside, and sent them to a friend or sweetheart. Annual Backwards Dances were sponsored by this activity-accomplished club. Mother-Daughter and Father-Daughter banquets were planned every year, along with a Big Sister-Little Sister Slumber Party. This group of girls was one of the more dynamic clubs on campus.

Keys to Serve Us

Did you see male students ushering cars in the Booster Club parking lot? They were Key Club members at work. As well as assisting Booster Club, they sponsored dances, paint lunch tables and trash cans as some activities done on campus. Even though Key Club had a small membership, they provided services throughout our community. "Participating with Upland youths was beneficial and enjoyable" commented Key Club president Mike Zinda about their work with orphanages. Together this club turned in a good year in the community and on campus.

"Chains of friendship, Links of Service" was the moto which led Keywanettes through a successful year of community service. Helping with the Special Olympics, visiting convalescent homes and helping to plan the annual senior citizen Christmas program were just a few of the community projects in which Keywanettes participated.

Their goal this year was to raise enough money to take part in the Kiwanis annual convention in Palo Alto. Fund raising projects included a car wash and selling candy bars, baked goods and whoppits, which are fuzzy animal-like creatures.

New Guidance

Having problems and don't like to talk to adults? The Peer Counseling club can probably help you. This new club was formed so that students could talk to their peers on a one to one basis, about anything, whether it was a problem with a girlfriend or boyfriend or if they just needed to talk to someone. The Peer Counseling club worked with counselors and procter, but everything was kept confidential. To be a member of this new club you had to train with an advisor and other students. A class which trained students to become peer counselors was created. Through the teachings of Miss Marti Owens, students learned what a hierachy society is, how to handle problems, and how to talk to people. These students may be the future Sigmund Freuds of the world.

Under the able leadership of advisors, Mr. Mooney, Mr. Ficke, and president Jacqui Watt, PEP CLAN celebrated their first year at UHS. The club supported school spirit by making posters to publicize athletic events. Members participated with the cheerleaders at each of the sports competitions. They joined the spectators and encouraged spirited "rowdiness." "Membership is open to anyone who is enthusiastic, crazy, and full of school spirit," assured Jacqui Watt.

Comeback was the theme not only for varsity football but for the Cranston Willies as well. Student Council almost denied Cranstons a charter because in previous years the club had not turned in any service projects. So the club decided that service projects were in order. Toward this goal members donated hours to guide "lost parents" on back to school night, and after homecoming, distributed dance pictures.

XYZ Men

UHS's LETTERMEN's CLUB was designed to build a fellowship among all male athletes and to maintain a high standard of quality in sports. Advised by Coach Raisbeck and president Jeff Monroe, this club participated in Upland High's Annual Donkey Basketball game, which was played against the Upland Police Department, and was held in January. Also sponsored was an after game dance in January.

UHS Lettermen were distinguished at school by their athletic abilities, and their lettermen jackets. "It was fun being the president because I had a chance to wield supreme power," declared Jeff Monroe.

Professionals

"We are the new professionals," stated VICA president Mark Petras. This theme kept VICA thriving all year. One important requirement was to be a skillsperson in an industrial or vocational class. To sum up the whole year, the club wrote this poem: "VICA is the way to go! We can really put on a show. In VICA, we're a small crowd, But, this small crowd is very proud. Our success is making it clear, that we have a skill in the coming year. Leadership and responsibility isn't a game, But this and VICA are one in the same. Vocational Industrial Clubs of America!"

This Computes

"I find the members of the Computer Club motivated, enthusiastic, and willing to work hard." Those were the words of Computer Club advisor, Mr. Kirkpatrick. This year marked their first appearance on campus. With twenty members, Dave Ciemiewicz worked hard organizing field trips to colleges and computer companies. They also sponsored the Sweethearts dance in February. All the profits started a fund which they hope will eventually grow large enough to allow them to buy a computer.

To the Summit

The Upland High snow Ski Club had another great year on the slopes. It began with a trip to Utah during Christmas vacation. Trips were planned with Coast Skiers' Club, composed of several high school ski clubs. A memorable trip to Mammouth Mountain followed. During the season, there were trips to local slopes. And Olympic Village in Squaw Valley capped off the year nicely.

UHS's Hiking Club enjoyed a successful year climbing mountains. Under the watchful eye of Mr. French, this club journeyed on both day and overnight hikes. They explored the San Gabriel Mountains, Joshua Tree, and Cooper Canyon. Activities on hikes consisted of cross country skiing in nearby mountains. Joe Aldern, their president, formed a community project of picking up trash on well-traveled trails. A rewarding year was enjoyed by the participants of UHS's hiking club.

"As fast as lightening" described the Moto-X team, consisting of a number of Upland Highlanders. Twenty riders raced with this team and competed against twelve high schools in the area. For seven Fridays out of the year, Moto-X used Corona Raceway for competitions. This group of daring young men, had skill and endurance to race. They spent many hard hours practicing to attain those skills which led them to victory. But before a rider mounted his bike, he had to have the proper equipment and standard racing clothes. They consisted of a helmet, racing boots, thick gloves, protective goggles, a jacket, and jersey. Emphasis was on speed as well as safety. Bikes ranged in size from eighty's to two hundred fifties, but the majority of Moto-X's riders use one hundred twenty-five's.

Fantasy Game

The day started out fine. I was in the "Castle of Illusion," and I killed two trolls, capturing their treasure. But then my best friend was eaten alive by a giant rat. Suddenly the bell rang, and I had to go back to class. Sound odd? It was only a new game called Dungeons and Dragons, and the new club that played it during second lunch in room one-hundred-five, and after school at different members homes. This game had no board, money, or dice in the conventional sense. The game's dice had anywhere from four to twenty sides; and instead of a board, the members bought different book and pamphlets depending upon the skill and level of the player. The game, though difficult to play, was easy to learn. Anyone wishing to learn how to play should see any member or Mr. Wenrick.

Cameras Focus

Without the limits or requirements of a class, the Photo Club provided an opportunity for its members to deal with photography on many levels. This was done with the help of their advisor, Mr. Cole, and president David Ikeda. The club consisted of Highlanders who were interested in the fundamental aspects of photography. Developing film, the use of cameras, equipment, and lighting were some of the skills which this club covered. During the second semester, the club sponsored an on-campus "Photography Contest" as a means of celebrating UHS's twenty-fifth anniversary.

Thespians Alive

URTT, Upland Repertory Theatre Troupe, was organized to present plays on the UHS campus. For six years, this club has been part of Upland High's curriculum. Mr. Brothers both taught and advised talented thesbians on theatrical techniques. During third period, advanced drama students met at the URTT club to practice skills for future plays. Members of the troupe participated in the major play of the year, entitled, "Dirty Work at the Crossroads." "URTT is open to anyone interested in expressing their talent," encouraged Marguerite Johnson, the club's president.

Places to Go

People to See

UHS's AFS Club's main purpose was to help foreign and domestic exchange students, from all over the world, adjust to life in Upland. Both Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Goggin were advisors to this club which involved the whole student body in promoting the exciting philosophy of the exchange program. With the help of president, Shelly Moering, short term exchanges with other schools in California were planned for the future. Anders Eklund, class of '80, was Upland High School's foreign exchange student from Finland.

"When I first heard about AFS, I was ten or eleven, I had no idea of how good a program it really is. I was sixteen when I came to Upland, and I still didn't know quite what to expect. But this year has meant much, much more to me than I ever expected, that's for sure!

I don't know how to thank all the people at UHS, and Upland in general, for being so nice to me during my AFS experience here. Especially, I'd like to thank my host family, The Huttons; they've been just fantastic. Also, I'd like to thank the members of the AFS adult chapter, the AFS club, and the Key club for making my stay here so nice. Last but not least, I'd like to thank all the guys on the 1979-80 varsity soccer team; you've been great!

I've had such a good time with all of you, and I'll never forget you."

Groups That Put It Together

UHS's Stage Crew did a splendid job this year by preparing the stage and auditorium for all the programs which were presented. Some of the programs which depended on this group to set the atmosphere were Modern Dance productions, plays, musical concerts by the band and chorus, and assemblies. Mr. Turner guided this class, which met during first period, and many times after school to work at Upland's sports events. Without the help of the Stage Crew, UHS's programs, all over the campus, would not have been the successes they were.

LCSC, Local Curriculum Steering Committee, recomends the courses for UHS's curriculum.

Clubs are one of the most important parts of student activities at UHS's. Publicizing their service and fundraising projects and social activities is the responsibility of the Inter-Club Council, ICC, which was led by Ed Book, president. Officers were Joe Aldern, vice president; Kris Kleinman, secretary; and Karen Karton, treasurer. Through ICC, clubs collected canned foods for Christmas baskets and participated in special interest projects on campus and in the community.

The entire student body and faculty made up the crowd, but the individuals were the components. Of course, each person was different with his or her own friends, activities and academic interests. Each had his own ideas of what school was for and worth and what he or she would try to give or get out of it. Some were in school for the studies, some because they had to be and some only for the social aspect. Class competition, stress workshops, and registration required individual effort.

1980 was indeed a good year for not only the students of Upland High, but also for the faculty.

The year began with Mrs. Jan Wright becoming Upland's, and the school district's, first woman principal. The administration's efforts to become more actively involved with the students and faculty were immediately evident.

Assemblies and meetings with students let opinions be voiced, and more importantly, be heard. One was nearly always able to find at least one of the principals out on campus talking to students, and each one of their offices was always open. Dialogue with the faculty increased through more faculty meetings, both social and business, in-service workshops and surveys regarding teacher needs and viewpoints.

It was through everyone's efforts that a positive attitude and spirit united students, faculty and administration in enthusiastic support of Upland High School.

Team Work

Team teaching became popular with students this year, when Mr. Dave Ficke and Mr. Dave Mooney combined their skills to teach five, sixty student, biology classes.

The dual teaching arrangement, where one person usually taught a chapter a time, allowed for the two to perfect labs and tests and better yet, to spend more time with their students. This was reflected in the many field trips, some over night, which they took and the ardor exhibited by both teachers and pupils. Understandably then, the class was called "one of the best ever" by students who felt that both Mr. Ficke's and Mr. Mooney's energy made the subject appealing, interesting and enjoyable to learn.

Pulling the Right Strings

Mr. Riede has been pulling strings, puppet strings, for the last thirteen years. He and his wife originally became interested in and later learned the delicate art of puppetry from an old puppet master. As a result, what started as a hobby is now a second profession.

The variety, seasonal and children's shows that the Riede puppeteers perform have a special personal touch to them, since everything from the set to the dialogue is created by them. Even the puppets themselves are handmade from scratch.

Though the craft takes a great deal of time and work, Mr. Riede continues to do it for the rewards it brings. He relates, "It's very gratifying to entertain, to make people happy."

HOW TO SPEND YOUR SUMMER WITH 15 KIDS

Talk about extracurricular activities the part of teachers! This past mmer found Mrs. Marie Copeland d her husband traveling to Europe th some fifteen students, eight of nom were from Upland High. All ent as part of a travel program for udents that had been in the plan- ng for more than a year.

The group spent three weeks in ondon, Paris and Rome and while ere took in some traditional sites hich included the Changing of the uard at Buckingham Palace, Mouse- ap, a play based on Agatha Christie's novel, the Eiffel Tower, the Paris Metro, Saint Peter's Basilica at the Vatican and the ruins of Pompeii. As well as learning the histories of these places, the students also enjoyed meeting with people of different cultures. In the course of their experience, they also found that they appreciated their own country even more.

One of the reasons why the trip was so enjoyable and such a success was simply the people that composed the group. From UHS were Karla Ahn, John Elliot, Carolyn Griffith, Dave Headrick, Jean Jensen, Laura Lewis, Tom Mason and Colleen Piscioneri. Said Mrs. Copeland, "A lot of people teased us and said we were crazy to go with all those kids, but I wouldn't trade them or the trip for anything in the world. They were great!!"

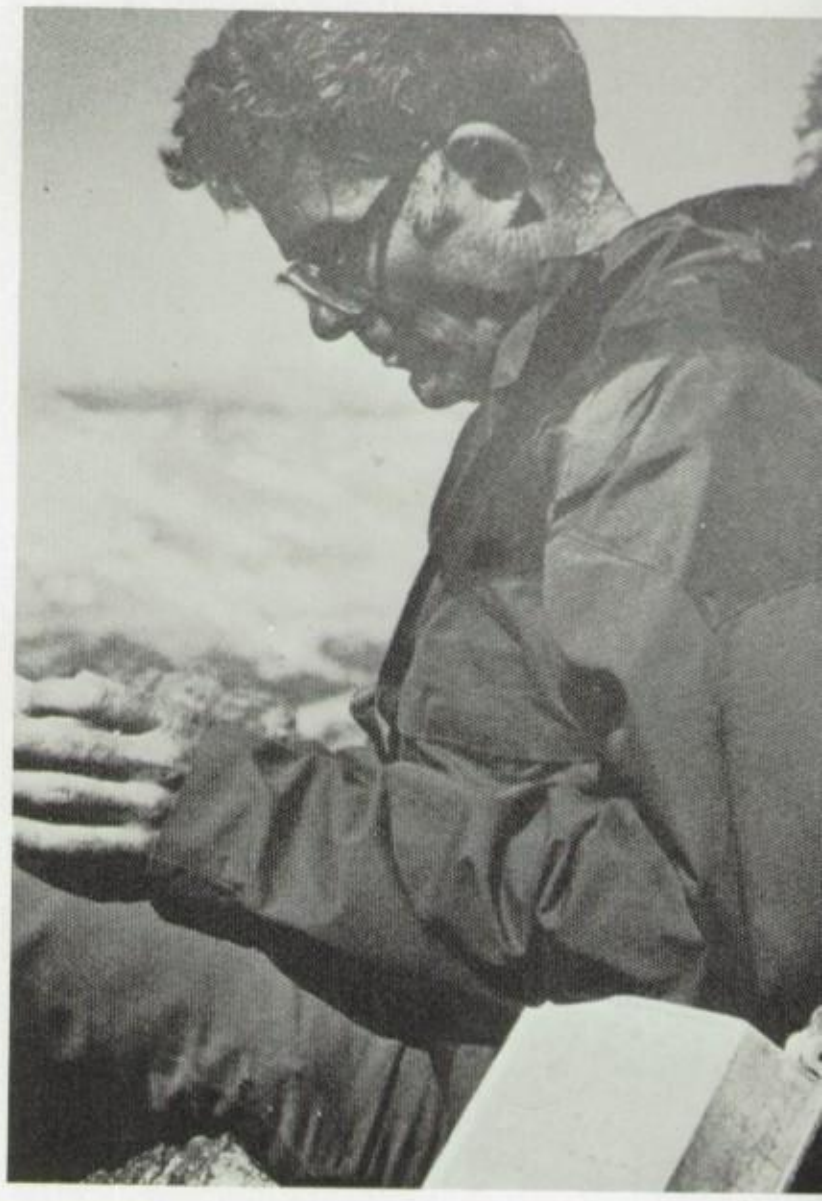
Outward Bound



While most people are finding themselves trapped in daily routines and California concrete, Mr. Cal French can be found enjoying the freedom of hiking and climbing throughout the western states.

In 1963, Mr. French joined the Sierra Club, where he is still very active, and has since then, successfully ventured over several hundred mountains and wilderness areas. His outings afford him "the relative freedom of getting away from so many signs of wasteful civilization", physical challenge and a different type of people to be with.

Mr. French's interest also includes environmental awareness, as he often speaks and writes in the hope of preserving different wildernesses and getting better land usage laws passed.

Perhaps one day, as he would like, he can spend all of his time being outward bound, rather than the little time he has now.

JUNIORS

They Lead the Junior Class

Organizing and finding a site for the Senior Prom, selling See's suckers and Christmas grams, preparing the junior float and participating in Homecoming week were only a few of the outstanding class requirements to make the '79-'80 school year a success.

Much of the junior officers' time went into the preparation of the Senior Prom. Junior class President, Missy Schilens, stated that the preparation for the Prom started as far back as September of '79. "We want to make this Prom very special. We have lots of ideas and really are excited about our plans."

The Fascinating Fingers

"She is really going to go far! That's what people were saying about Gayle Serdan, a very talented Junior who's into jazz music. Her achievements range from winning the music award at Pioneer Junior High to being asked to play for the Yugoslavian Consul General. Her most recent achievement was the cutting of an album last summer, "The Fascinating Fingers of Gayle Serdan." Her future plans include becoming a performing artist and a music teacher.

Gayle Serdan relaxes comfortably by her favorite plaything.

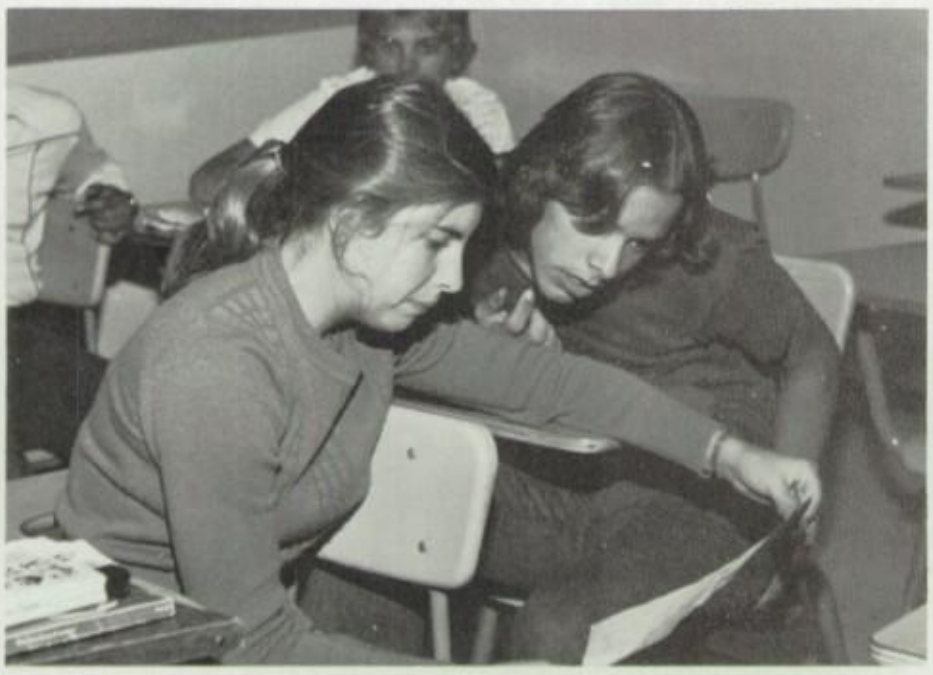
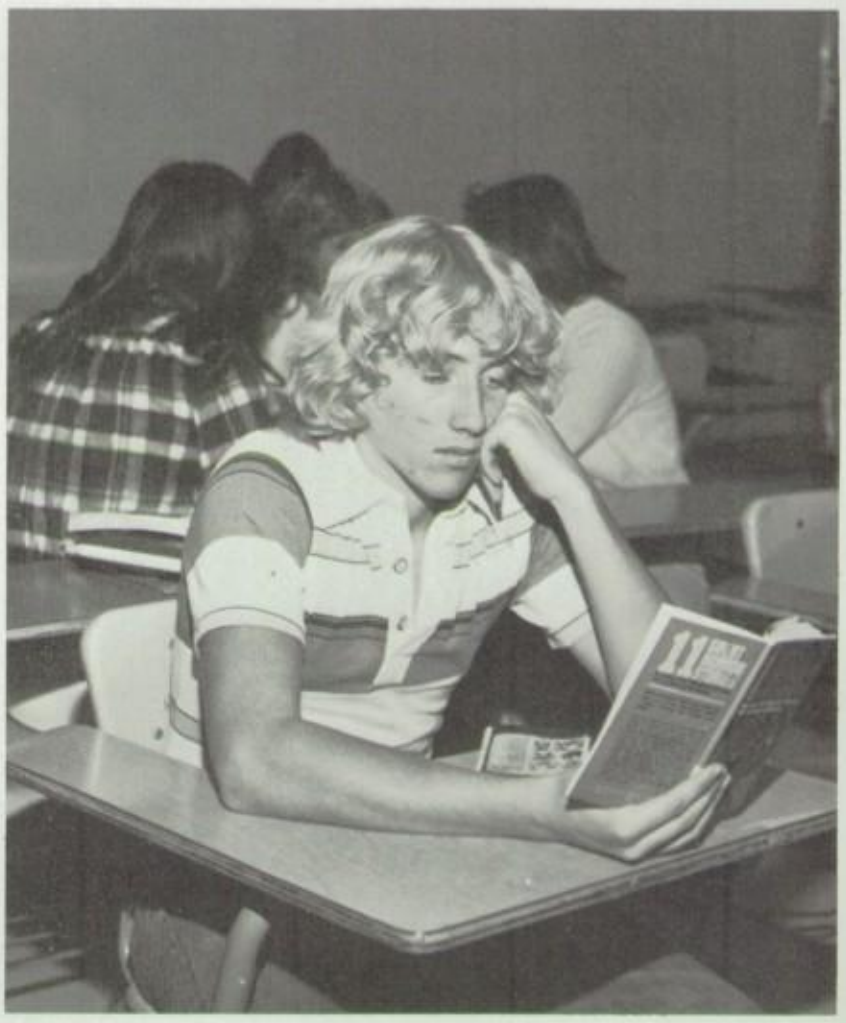
Making the Grades

Grades suddenly became very important during the junior year. It was obvious that the time had come to start thinking about choosing a college. What had seemed years away as a freshman became the realization, "Next year I'll be a Senior." The time had come to make the grade.





▲ David Couganour takes advantage of free reading day.

◀ You can tell grades came out by the expression on the faces of Missy Schilens and Kirk Scheerer.

Junior Survey

What is the thing you'll remember most about your Junior year?

Karen Hall — Since I am new, I will remember all the friends I made.
Kim Duran — Moving into so many different schools.
Randall Cornelius — The women, the games, and the good times.
Mike Hendricks — All of the pretty girls and probably my German and History classes.
Tim Frantz — Sharon and my 66 Pontiac!!!!
Dave Dyer — The girls, I really like the girls!!!!
Carolyn Griffith — Getting involved with the drama department. I made some good friends working on "DIRTY WORK AT THE CROSSROADS."
Wendy Buller — The great times I had at all the football games with a bunch of my friends. When I was in class, it was pretty fun, but I'm still learning a lot.
Shawna Lindsey — The thing I'll remember most is being a drill team leader, and the band and drill team finally getting those high placings.
Mark Sorenson — My pregnant history teacher, parties, and burnt palm trees.
Joan Beeman — Derek Niblack
Dan Loomis — Not going to dances.
Shelly Hembree — Teachers, classes, friends and sports, but mostly I will remember how I was.
Matt Havens — Everything — it's great!!!!!
Byron Strope — The aviation classes taught by Mr. Turner.
Gregg Shobe — Having a car and a job.
Robert Jenkins — Being on a champion football team.

Now that you are of driving age, how has the gas crisis affected you?

Lisa Chesnut — It hasn't because all I own is a bike.
Bob Korom — No, because I work at a gas station.
James Reckon — It is not actually how, but where. In my wallet.
Ernie Richau — I will always use a lot of gas although it would be a little easier if it were cheaper.
Karen Orman — Not really, my gas tank is small, and I don't go many places to use a lot of gas.
Mortimar Scherd — It doesn't affect me that much because I get company gas!!
Kathi Helm — Not a whole lot, my moped gets about 100 mpg, and my car get excellent mileage.
Bob Justis — I think it's a real pain in the gas!!
Charles Press — It spends all of my money on nothing. It's a ripoff.
Staci Gardner — Luckily I only drive to work, but boy does it hit me were it hurts.
Greg Arnold — It is costing me like crazy. I can scarcely afford to drive.
Mike Booth — It has changed my mind about buying a car so soon.
Annette Hollis — Not that bad cause I have out of state license plates, so I can get gas anytime.
Bob Katelhut — Hardly at all, I work 40 hours a week so I can afford it.

The Right to Play

Is there such a thing as men's lib? There is a junior named Lance Siegal who thinks so. Because U.H.S. has no boys' volleyball team, it left Lance only one alternative — to try out for the girls' volleyball team. There was a catch though. Lance was unable to play any games or tournaments because the rules for the male and female volleyball teams differ, and a C.I.F. rule stated that a male student could not participate in girls' sports without a signed petition started by the principal of the school. There was not enough time to challenge the CIF, so Lance was unable to play. However, a step was taken to equalize participation in sports for males in a women's lib decade.

SOPHOMORES

Class officers led the sophomores through a year of hard work and new experiences. Under hard work, put biology, which was almost too much for many, and the essay competency test which English teachers spent many weeks preparing the sophomores for. New experiences came in great abundance this year. Number one was driving. Remember the first time behind the wheel without an instructor or parent there? Second, was working, which brought in the cash for gas. One more was dating: finally they could go out without having 'elders' chauffer them around.

Sophs Speak Up

What is your favorite class? Why?

Russ Eckersall — Spanish, because it's what I get my best grade in.

Ginia O'Hara — Biology, because I love to watch Ficke and Mooney have a war of wits especially since Ficke has no ammunition.

Laura Verdugo — Spanish, because Mr. Robertson has a great personality and a fun way of teaching.

Brad Grady — Drivers Ed, because it's a rowdy class.

Who is your favorite teacher? Why?

Bobby Joe Anspach — Mr. Ficke because everyone likes Mr. Mooney and I figure somebody's gotta like him.

Dana Collins — Mr. Paul Pablo Robertson because the only thing bad about his class is his jokes.

Linda Brewer — Mr. Meza because he gets involved in school activities.

Sally Sophomore — Mr. Mooney because he has a lot of school spirit; besides he's the only one who can tell Mr. Ficke where to put it; the homework that is.

If you could change one thing at Upland High what would it be?

Diane Hudson — I would like to have an open campus so all of those fast food places could get some business.

Guy Bonaldo — Cafeteria food, it is inhumane to eat that stuff!

Lyn Curry — I think there should be a lot less homework. You go to school to work, you don't go home to work.

Duong Nguyen — More teachers meetings which means more vacations for us.

Karen Richardson — The teachers to stop being grouches.

Anticipation rose as sophomores approached their sixteenth birthdays. They drove their parents crazy by constantly asking for the car, to practice, of course. Some were lucky enough to have parents who solved this problem by buying them a car, while others impatiently waited for the family car to become available.

◀ Sophomores wait until their sixteenth birthday to be on the inside looking out.

Biology spaces filled rapidly and were gone before sophomore scramble was half finished. But what most sophomores expected to be a boring and dull class ended up being the favorite over all, despite lectures, labs, and tests.

These lectures, labs, and tests brought on many ailments during the course of the year, the most frequent being headaches, from cramming all night before a final, and writers cramp, from taking notes at lectures. It was rumored that one sophomore had a nervous breakdown after the first quarter of this class, but it was probably just a rumor. Most sophomores feit that biology wasn't all that bad.

The most intresting assignments were the labs, agreed the majority of sophomores. These labs ranged in the subjects from exploring the cavities of a frog to the construction of a leaf.

Lorie Rubino looks in on a leaf during one of Ficke and Mooney's labs.

A Sweet Deal

Sophomore Tom Frantz doesn't have to have a part time job. His hobby, beekeeping, gives him both enjoyment and income. Tom has one hive, 40,000 bees and numerous bee stings. It's worth it, however, because they produce about 100 pounds of honey each season. Sweet Deal.

"'82 Will Stomp On You" was the theme for the sophomore float in this year's homecoming parade, but their spirit did not end there; the sophomore class succeeded in stomping down the spirit of the other classes by their continuing efforts to show class spirit and unity. It was not uncommon to see the majority of the sophomore class participating in everything, from football games and rallies to baseball games and dances. As a whole, the class of '82 became one of the best represented classes all through the year.

"Eighty-two, eighty-two, eighty-eighty-eighty-eighty-eighty-two!"

Leading the class of eighty-three through a year of hard work and ridicule by upperclassmen, the freshmen class officers represented their class as well as, if not better than anyone in the past.

The seven-hundred-eleven freshmen supported our school through extracurricular activities. By participating with the various bands and drill team the sports teams, and the clubs, the Class of Eighty-three set high standards for future freshmen.

Class officers: President Suzanne Simpson, Vice President Rachel Miller, Secretary Debbie Hamel, Treasurer Lori Dale.

Freshmen get the best seats in the house while watching the Highlanders win.

The class of eighty-three was honored for the first time this year by the upperclassmen. "Freshmen Day" was founded on the concept of recognizing the freshmen as people, though popular thinking sometimes differed. The freshmen, however, didn't think this day was much of an honor, but a put down instead.

Some freshmen were able to rise above the ridicule by being among the most outrageously dressed. This showed the sincere spirit of the class of eighty-three.

What do you like best at U.H.S.?

1. Leah Bailey — The guys if anything.
2. Deana Carey — Lunch and chewing gum.
3. Sandy Rhodes — The football games.
4. David Shelby — The girls.
5. Lori Dale — I like the extracurricular activities.
6. Missy Peterson — You could get something to munch on if you're ever hungry.
7. Becky Ball — I like just about everything, courses, lunches, and especially the upper classmen.
8. Janis Allen — My friends.

What's frustrating about being a freshman?

1. Kelly O'Neil — I have so many books.
2. Kim Treming — Being treated like a baby and looked down on like ants.
3. Carol Guth — Keeping it a Secret you're a freshman.
4. Patty Benham — Everyone teases you about being one.
5. Lisa Long — They don't include you in anything.
6. Tim Gomez — Everyone thats older picks on you.
7. Lori Dale — Upperclassmen
8. Adam Haffajee — Nothing . . .

Have Spirit

Freshmen give forth with Fantastic Frantic Frenzy.

Do Freshmen have spirit? Of course they do. During Homecoming Week Freshmen were the first to volunteer for the various activities. Their attendance at rallies was among the very best of the school, and during class competition they could certainly be heard.

At the games you were sure to see the stands filled with Freshmen, cheering the Upland Highlanders to victory with a certain flare of enthusiasm. In the years to come the Freshmen class can be counted on for support at all activities.

Did you have any fears or worries about going to UHS?

Lisa Long — I thought I would get beat up because I have a smart mouth.
Kim Treming — Sure. Just going gave me the creeps. Alfy Vitro — Bathrooms.
Jon Shepard — If you smart off to anybody, they'll kick your butt.
Kim Haines — Getting lost.

What was your first impression of Upland High School?

Stacey Jackson — It's small, boring, dead, and not enough people.
Carol Guth — Boring classes.
Tim Gomez — I thought I would get lost.
Wendy Wallace — Fun and Nice.
Hier Hoyt — Seemed a lot more disciplined than junior high.
Debbie Smith — I was nervous because I thought my classes would be all over the school and I'd never find 'em!
Carolyn Campbell — Seemed like a nice school.
Chrissi Deyo — Not much.
Kelly O'Grady — Big.
Anna Walker — That I have only three years left of state law school.
Lily Wu — I thought everything was nice, until lunch time.
Kim Treming — Well, I thought it was a very outgoing school.

Do you remember those hot October days when you had to go through the long hours listening to a teacher lecture about science or math? The freshmen lucked out. Instead of being in a hot classroom, most freshmen spent an hour refreshing in a nice cool swimming pool.

It wasn't all fun and games though. They had to practice things they probably already knew, things like the breast stroke, the back stroke, the dead man's float, the jelly float and the old favorite, dog paddle. Voila, future lifeguards.

Can we go in now? Anxious frosh students await the o.k. to cool off.

Effort was the name of the game, as the Scots entered the 1979-1980 sports season in the new Baseline League. Inspired by the will to win, competitors proved their ability through practice and team work.

What began to be an average year, turned out to be a victorious success. UHS Scots were never ready to quit. Their constant efforts earned well deserved recognition.

Football, baseball, tennis, basketball, and volleyball brought home some very reassuring results. Sportsmen outdid themselves throughout the year.

Baseline League Champs

Due to an all around team effort, put together with a devastating defense and a powerful offense, the mighty Scots claimed the league title after a victory over the Pomona Devils. Moving into the CIF playoffs with an eight to two record, the team's morale was very high. The CIF championship appeared even closer after the crunch on the West Covina Colts and the Arlington Lions. Unfortunately spirits were dampened when the Riverside Poly Bears ended the dreams of the CIF title, for the Upland Scots.

Despite these accomplishments and the disappointing loss, the team felt the highlight of the season was the shutout on the Chaffey Tigers, (in the team's first confrontation in seventeen years) and the long awaited clip on the Damien Spartans.

The 1979 Varsity Football season was inaugurated with the title the Comeback year. Not only was our team a promising success, but Coach Pat Bandy returned after seven years of retirement, to once again head the coaching staff of Upland's team. Co-Captain Mike Zinda summed it all up; "This season has been great. We, as a team, have brought back to Upland a winning tradition to football. It truly was a comeback year."

Although the team placed third in the league, coach Bob Holycross felt, "The girls performed very well. I was proud of their behavior and effort to win on the court. Next year with all the girls returning, seven out of nine, we should have a chance to win the league." Leading the team in singles was junior, Carolyn Tynar, while Heidi Skvarna and Tisha Whitcraft spear headed the doubles.

The Varsity Water Polo team was a young team being that there were five starting juniors; Doug Robertson, Stu Johnson, Tom Comeau, Paul Robinson, and Warren Zuber. The game against Claremont was the turning point of the season. It was during this competition that due to a one point loss (21 to 20) the Varsity team was knocked out of C.I.F. "We gave Chaffey the best game they ever played in league. Almost beating them was really a big boost of team moral," quoted Tom Comeau, Varsity Pointman.

Outstanding players consisted of Ed Correll who won all American swimmer and was 1st team all league; Stu Johnson and Bill White who were 2nd team all league.

"We are anxiously looking forward to next year when we will have one of the strongest teams in the league," quoted Coach McCarthy.

Boys' Varsity Top 10

▲ U.H.S. runners start out strong at the Castaic Invitational.

◀ Tying for 1st place was an easy victory for Don Orr and Scott Winfield at the Upland vs. Glendora meet.

The accent was on indurance, as this year's Boys' Varsity Cross Country team won the title in the Baseline League competition and victoriously placed in the C.I.F. finals.

Losing three of their four top runners from 1978-79 was not enough to stop the boys from having an outstanding season.

Leading the team through season competition was this year's first place C.I.F. champion Don Orr. Other top runners consisted of Phil Orr placing eighth in C.I.F. finals and tying for first place with his brother Don in the league; Scott Winfield placing high in all invitationals; Jeff Knudsen number four runner in C.I.F. finals and David Ikeda league champion in the J.V. league finals and number five in C.I.F.

These runners reinforced the twelveth consecutive year that Boys Cross Country had been undefeated in the league.

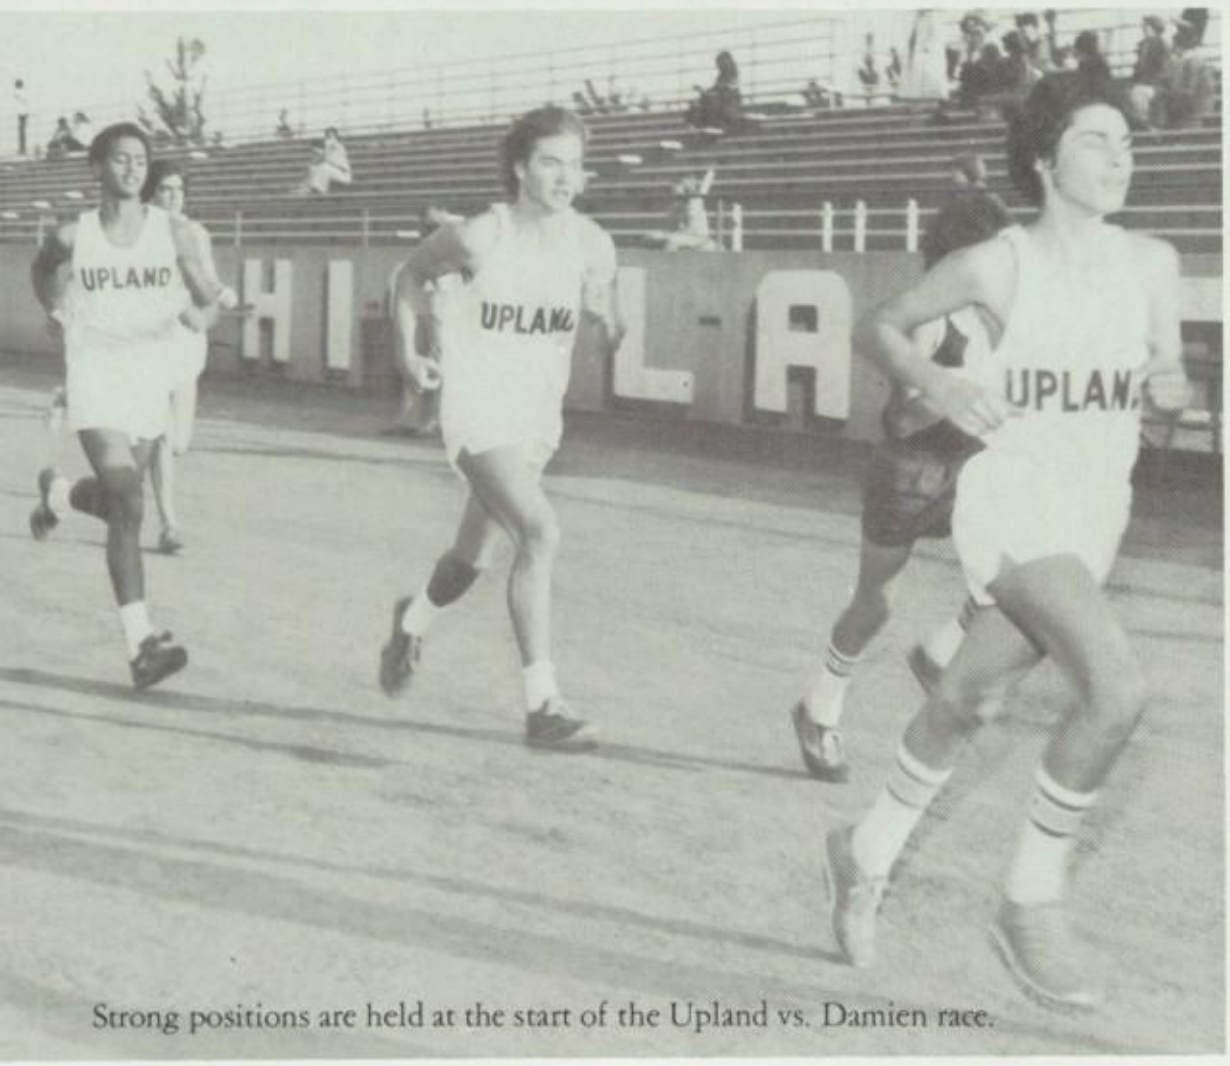
To U.H.S. Cross Country Teams

▼ Encouraging an already psyched-up team, Coach Hughes discusses trategy against Chaffey.

▼ Tim Gold and Dave Spotswood leave their opponents behind at the 1¼ mile mark.



Strong positions are held at the start of the Upland vs. Damien race.

Starting with a whole new team the Frosh-Soph Cross Country team victories placed them in the season with a record of (4 to 1). As a group the team made it into the duel meet and united to earn the title of league runners-up.

In 1979 the U.H.S. Girls Cross Country team won the Baseline league championship and advanced to the C.I.F. first round. Leading the Highlanders were Nancy Ikeda and Loretta Stone.

Season highlights were slopping through mud at Palos Verdes, killing themselves on Crisco Hill, singing commercials in the back of Coach Hughes's car, and getting medals at the Mt. Sac invitational. "We beat everybody we went against except Chino," quoted Coach Hughes.

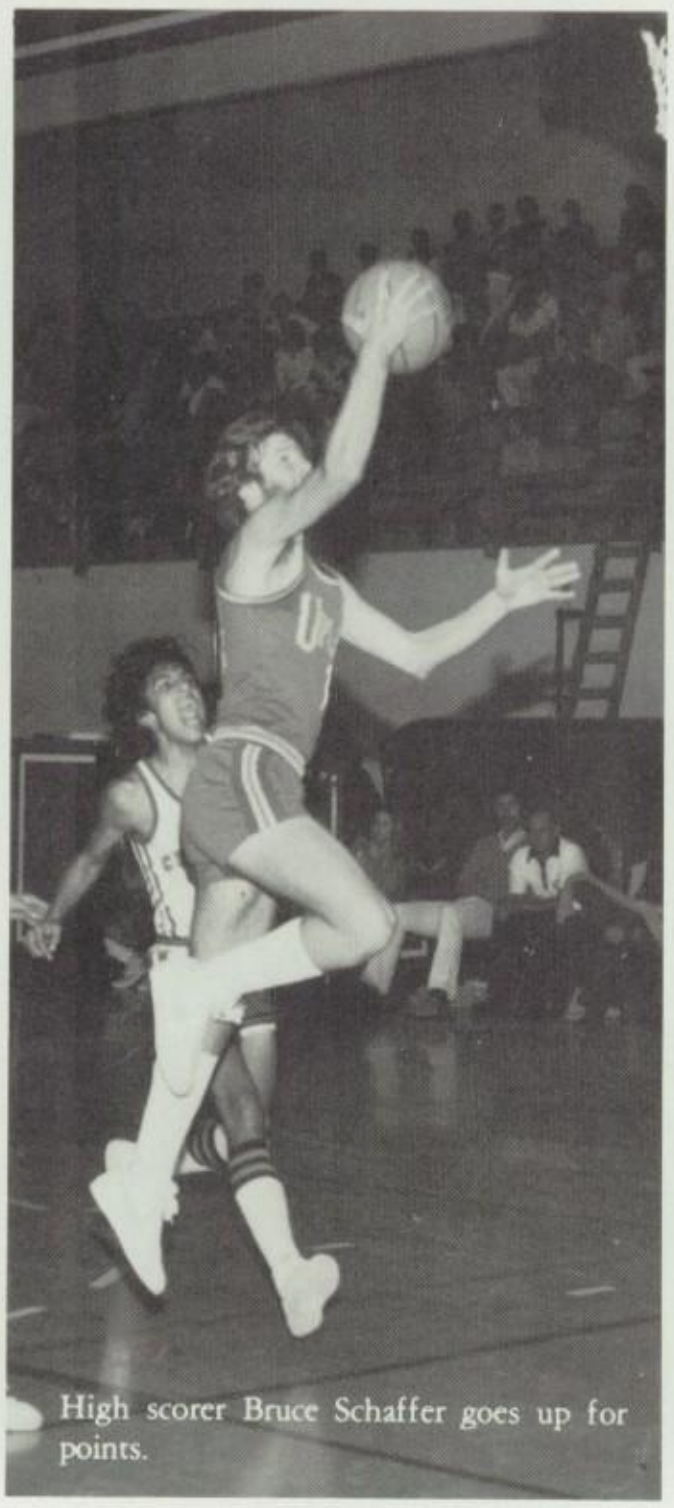
While the rest of the team is guarded, Chris Juels is the only open receiver.

Dribbling into action, the Varsity Basketball team entered their pre-season tournaments with hopeful anticipation for a winning year. The team was comprised of mostly last years Junior Varsity members and four returning veterans, Chris Juels, Bruce Shaffer, Chris St. John and Mark Trautwien. Other outstanding players were Kevin Franz, Phil Rakin and Jon Trautwien.

Mark Trautwien was a notable example of a six foot guard who led the team in scoring an average of 12-18 points per game.

"This was a really phenomenal year," said Coach Trautwien. "The guys really progressed along the way and did everything that I had planned for them to do."

Guarded closely, Kevin Franz sinks a long shot.



High scorer Bruce Schaffer goes up for points.

Junior, Gil Bonilla, makes it look easy as he puts away another two.

J.V.

Under the direction of Coach Cobb, the JV basketball team really progressed with an all effort season. Even though they had a good shooting and defensive team, it didn't seem to help the overall scoring.

The starting line-up consisted of Dave Haston and Gill Bonilla, who frequently sat in on the Varsity bench, Scott Spalding, Wayne Forsyth and Craig Crammer. At the conclusion of the football season the line-up was altered. Hustle was the name of the game.

Concentrating on controlling the ball, Wayne Forsyth, dribbles past his opponent.

"Chalk up another outstanding season for the talented Upland High School girls' basketball team. The ingredients for success were team work, dedication, and an unbelievable amount of enthusiasm. In fact, these girls had so much enthusiasm, they invented cheers, sang songs, talked and lived basketball. They really loved the game! Another vital element of this team was that everyone made an important contribution towards its success, and no individual player was considered the major key." Coach Sandquist

Take down Plus Pin

When the season started, the coaches knew they would have a young team. Many of the teams that they wrestled had most of their varsity letterman returning while Upland had lost eight of their thirteen varsity wrestlers. Three-fourths of the way through the season, the wrestling team was undefeated in the dual matches. One of the highlights of the season was the match against Garey, one of the teams favored to take first in the Baseline League.

The Junior Varsity Wrestling team consisted of freshman and sophomores who were new to the sport. The 79-80 season was a learning time for the young team. The squad became acquainted with the techniques and terminology of the sport. The young team was not a strong unit but did have some strong individuals. Next year's squad should be greatly improved because of the knowledge and experience gained during the 79-80 season.

The girls that decided to go out for the swim team found out that just the ability to stay afloat didn't meet the standards. The decision to compete was one of the many other steps they had to climb to be considered as a swimmer. The girls began to perfect their natural abilities and style formed by the necessary swimming techniques. After the girls successfully accomplished these steps they were rewarded with the title of swimmers on the Upland High School Girls Swim Team.

Due to the fact that the team had at least twenty new girls this year, last years J.V. swimmers were moved to Varsity positions to help strengthen an already strong Varsity team.

At the beginning of the season the girls relied on their powerful relay team and outstanding individual efforts from Karen Kostoff and Stacey White.

Swimmers Have Their Own Freestyle

Returning to splash into the season were Varsity Swim Team lettermen Ed Coryell, Tregg Ries, Jay Robnett, Bill White, Paul Robinson, Kevin Ciemiewicz, Greg Arnold, and Bob Mohan. Coach McCarthy stated at the beginning of the season, "This is the best team I have ever coached. Ed Coryell is a strong favorite to win two events in C.I.F. Being that we have a very strong free and medley relay team, I feel we will make it to C.I.F. finals. Between our returning letterman and some outstanding new freshman we should win league!"

Upland High School's all girl diving team was not intimidated by their all male competitors. The girls dedication ranged from one year of experience to an unbelievable eleven years. Long hours of perfecting their diving techniques, exhausting physical endurance and exciting moments resulting in victory highlighted the competitive season for this group of eight divers.

One of the qualifications of being a diver was having the ability of full concentration on the dive about to be executed, instead of surrounding thoughts and sounds. Once this was accomplished the outcome of the season proved that the girls could compete against their male opponents successfully.

The boys tennis team was served an ace by their opponent, the weather. At the beginning of the season, Coach Shireman, head of the Junior Varsity team, didn't know his team's potential because of the rain. He only knew that these boys were inexperienced and willing to learn the sport. The Varsity team had four returning players, Andy Johnson, John Langley, Shaun Skinner, and Eric Skvarna. Coach Trautwein commented on the season, "About one-half of the spots were filled with new players or players from last year's Junior Varsity team. Setting goals and fulfilling them is an important fundamental used to achieve success. Having achieved the high goal of capturing the 1979 League Championship, the U.H.S. track team set their sights on repeating their performance by presiding over the renowned Baseline League .

Also a strong part of the solid foundation of the team was credited to the outstanding underclassmen: Don Orr, Phil Orr, Brian Woodward and John Pina.

The 14 years experience of head coach, Bob Loney and the strong determination and skill of the team, brought track another well-done season.

With Highlander spirit and pride the girls track team sprinted across the finish line bringing many honors to Upland High School. The 1980 girls team was led by seniors Debra Phelps and Lisa Stone and juniors Jayne Albert, Liz Johnson, and Pam Clappier. Promising underclassmen included Melissa Hester, Loretta Stone, Cindy Minrey and Kim Jennings. Coach Keebler said "With time and determination the girls put forth, we should go far." Overall, the effort put forth by the girls led to a successful league season.

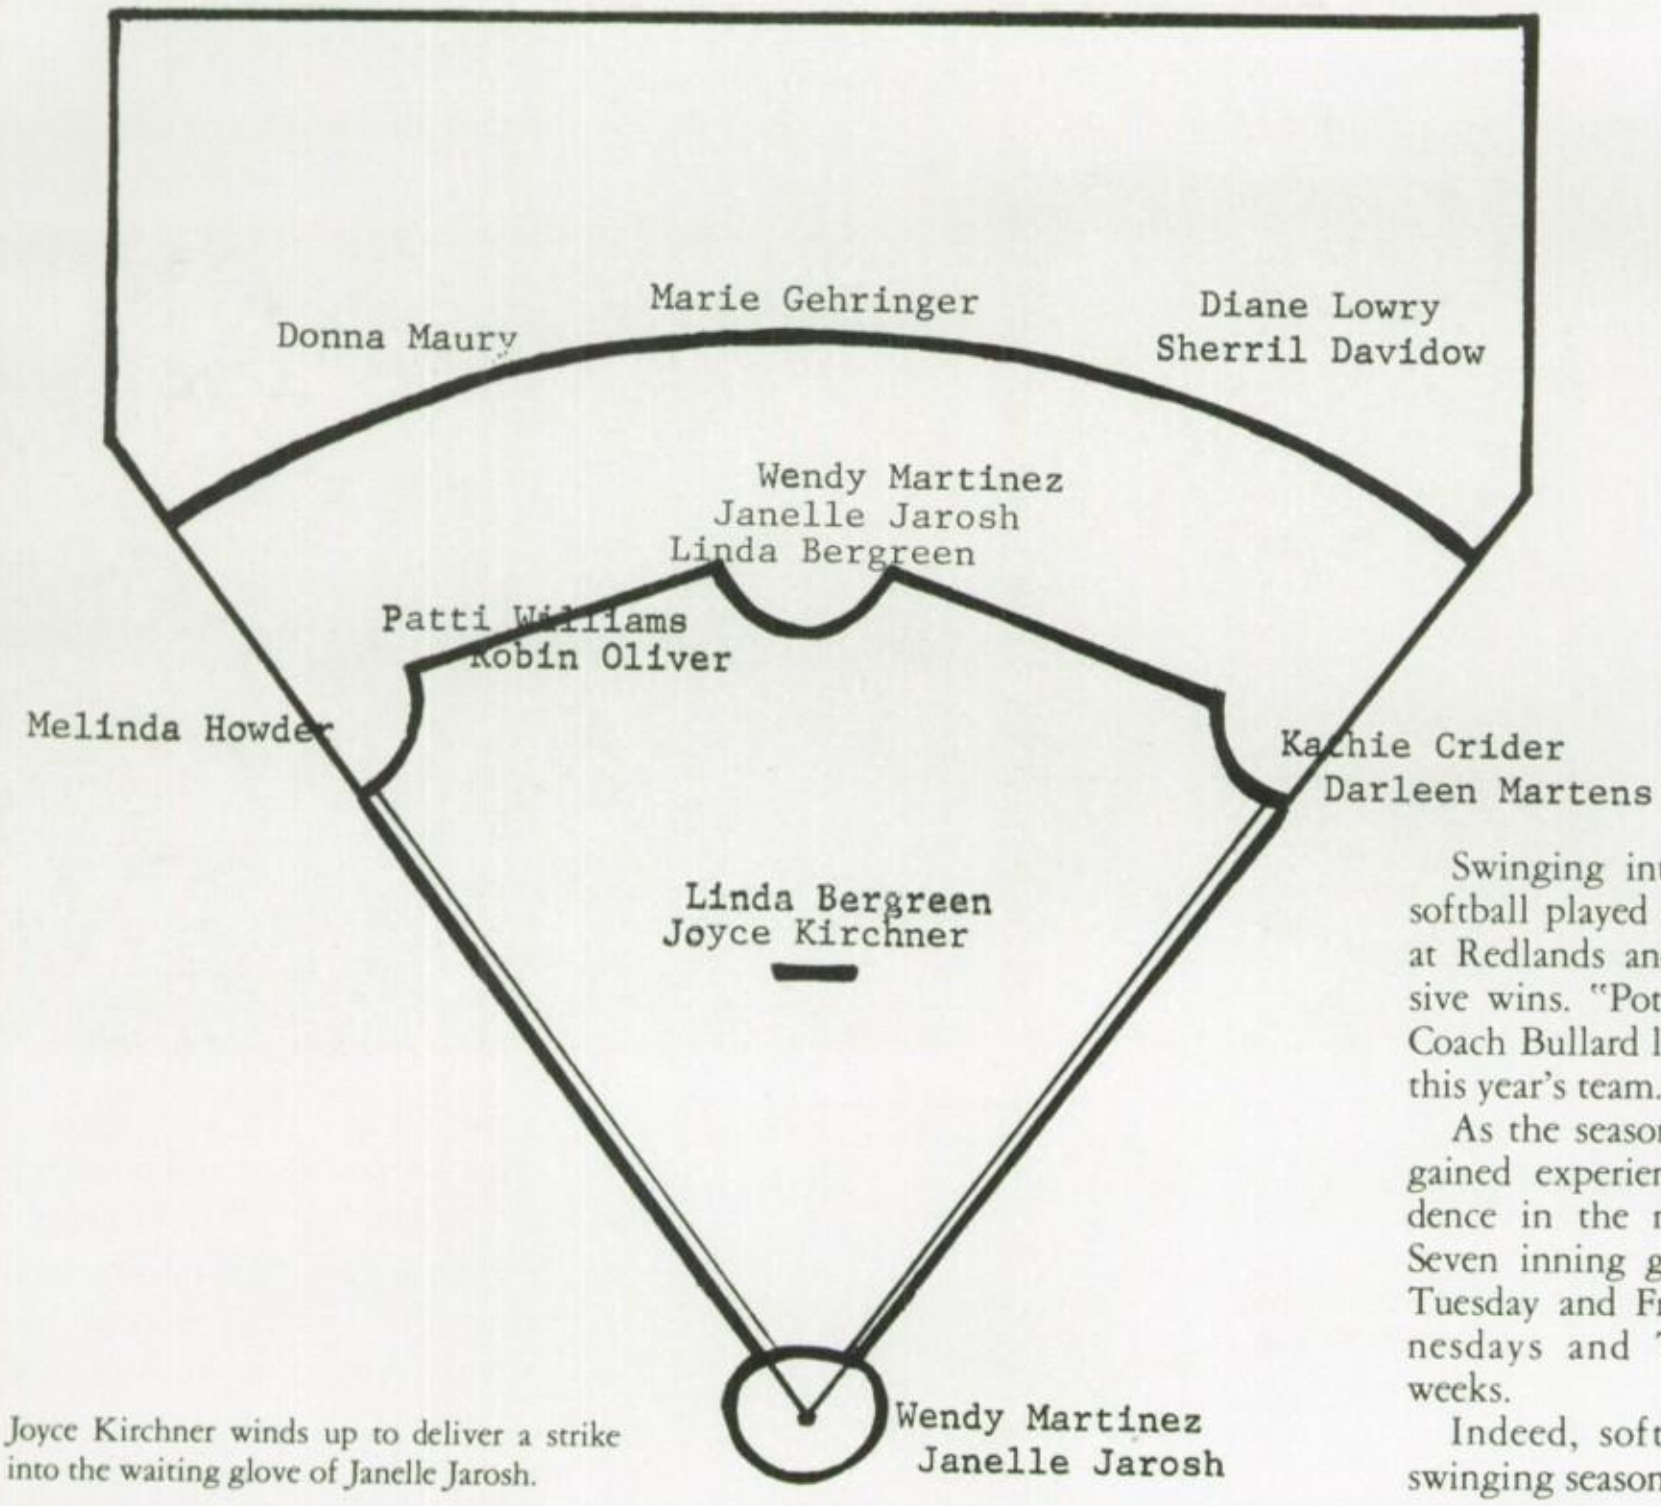
Softball Swings



Joyce Kirchner winds up to deliver a strike into the waiting glove of Janelle Jarosh.

Swinging into the season, varsity softball played their preseason games at Redlands and home with impressive wins. "Potential" was one word Coach Bullard liked to use to describe this year's team.

As the season progressed, the girls gained experience as well as confidence in the new Baseline League. Seven inning games were held each Tuesday and Friday and some Wednesdays and Thursdays for nine weeks.

Indeed, softball accomplished a swinging season.

Upland Gets Teed Off

Golf is a sport that is not as fierce as football, as demanding as cross-country running, or as skillful as basketball, but it requires close concentration, a precise technique and mental stamina. Upland High School's golf team demonstrated these traits exceptionally well.

They faced tough teams such as Claremont and Damien, who led the league. However, the coach and teammates were not discouraged since they were a young team and there was much more to learn. Coach Stewart speculated that 1980 would be a building year with team captain, Doug Grindle, along with Joe Sibree and Jim Stewart leading the team.

The traditional all-male golf team of past years was broken this year with the addition of Karen Baxter. When asked about how they felt having a female teammate, some members replied that Karen was nice and a good player, and Karen saw her male teammates in a favorable light: united to win.

1980 Salute to the Athletes

Upland High School was represented by more than five hundred athletes who participated in the seventeen different sports available to them. These athletes were dedicated individuals whose desire to compete was backed up with hard work, long hours after school and on their own time. Practice produced sore muscles, hurt egos and more determination to win. Another aspect of their challenge was to maintain a C average to be eligible for their desired sport. After they took the necessary steps to prepare themselves to partake in their sport, they measured their abilities by competing to determine their skill. Success didn't always come to Upland's athletes, but winning wasn't everything. The athletes learned many lessons when they were competing, sportsmanship, working as a team and discovering one's potential. Congratulations 80's athletes.

T-Z

Within our school year there were many memorable moments and many special people. Assemblies, dances, trips to the beach and weekends skiing helped to make the homework, progress reports and tests bearable. Good friends and caring teachers added the final touch in making this school year the unique one that it was.

From 8:00 a.m. until 2:25 p.m. school was in session. Everyday, something new and exciting was going on, whether it was that Joe Johnson and Sue Smith were going out, or that the boy's locker room was on fire.

When 2:25 p.m. came along, school was out and a new meeting place was to be sought. Taco Bell, Jack-in-the-Box, That Yogurt Shop and James Games seemed to be the most popular places to meet.

Whether we were in school or out, for the day or the summer, these memories of our high school years were something special.

What people liked or didn't like were a reflection of their innermost feelings and outward expressions. Certainly fads such as roller-skating and disco dancing exemplified the fun that students looked for, just as the patriotism and spirit that arose from the Iranian situation or the presidential campaign showed the seriousness that accompanied the year too.

What was "in" in 1979 was "out" in 1980 and sometimes vice versa or some of both. But it was a reflection of the growth and change that shaped Upland students and the world.

Homework! Studying! Tests!

How many students hated to think of the agony of these academic musts.

Remember how it all started? First there were the semiannual registrations for classes, "scrambles." Students rushed to get their needed classes only to find that many of them had already been filled. And if a student happened to scramble in the last group, well . . .

But when students finally did succeed in getting "that one particular class", they often found themselves wanting to get out of it after the first day of school. Nevertheless, most stuck with the class.

It wasn't too long though, before the homework started piling up — the essays, the reading, the speeches, the reports, the tests! Of course almost every student participated in the midnight ritual of cramming for final exams.

When the quarter or semester was over, students were glad to have studied. Though their efforts took a seemingly endless amount of hours, each Upland High student left his classes with more knowledge and a feeling of accomplishment.

Valedictorian

While at Upland High School, I was involved in a variety of activities. My different involvements provided me with a rewarding and enjoyable high school experience.

Sports were an integral part of my life, as I was a participant in soccer, track and cross country. By being a student member of the Local Curriculum Steering Committee in my junior year, I was able to experience one aspect of how the school functioned. In my spare time, I also enjoy hiking and backpacking and was the Hiking Club vice-president.

For next fall, Occidental College has accepted me; and after summer I will be a freshman (again, ugh!). Economics is one field that has always interested me so it will be my major. After 4 years of German at UHS, I have no intention of stopping. Thus, German will be my minor in college. Hopefully, through Occidental's foreign study program, my junior year will be spent at a university in West Germany.

As long as the draft doesn't interfere with my life, I plan to complete my education through graduate school. In that space of time I will decide on my long range goals for my life, because having goals and striving for them is what gives life meaning.

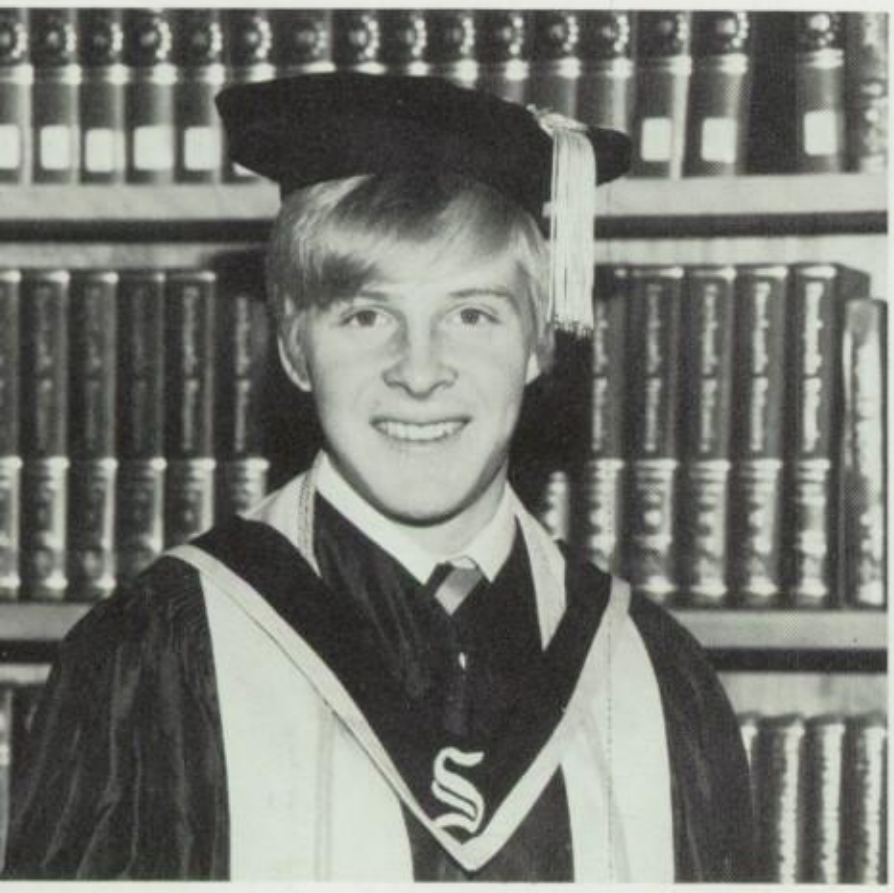
Tom Domonoske

The honors of Valedictorian and Co-Salutatorians are ones that have been in the tradition of Upland High for 25 years. They are given to the most outstanding students of the graduating class, whose selection is based upon citizenship, involvement in school and community events, as well as academic qualities.

These students are chosen only after careful consideration by the administration. The valedictorian is asked to address his class at the commencement ceremony to leave behind some special thoughts and words.

Valedictorian and Co-Salutatorians are a special honor indeed. Tom Domonoske, the 1980 Valedictorian, and John Andersen, and Bob Mohan, the Co-Salutatorians, are certainly deserving of these recognitions. All Upland is proud of them.

Co-Salutatorians

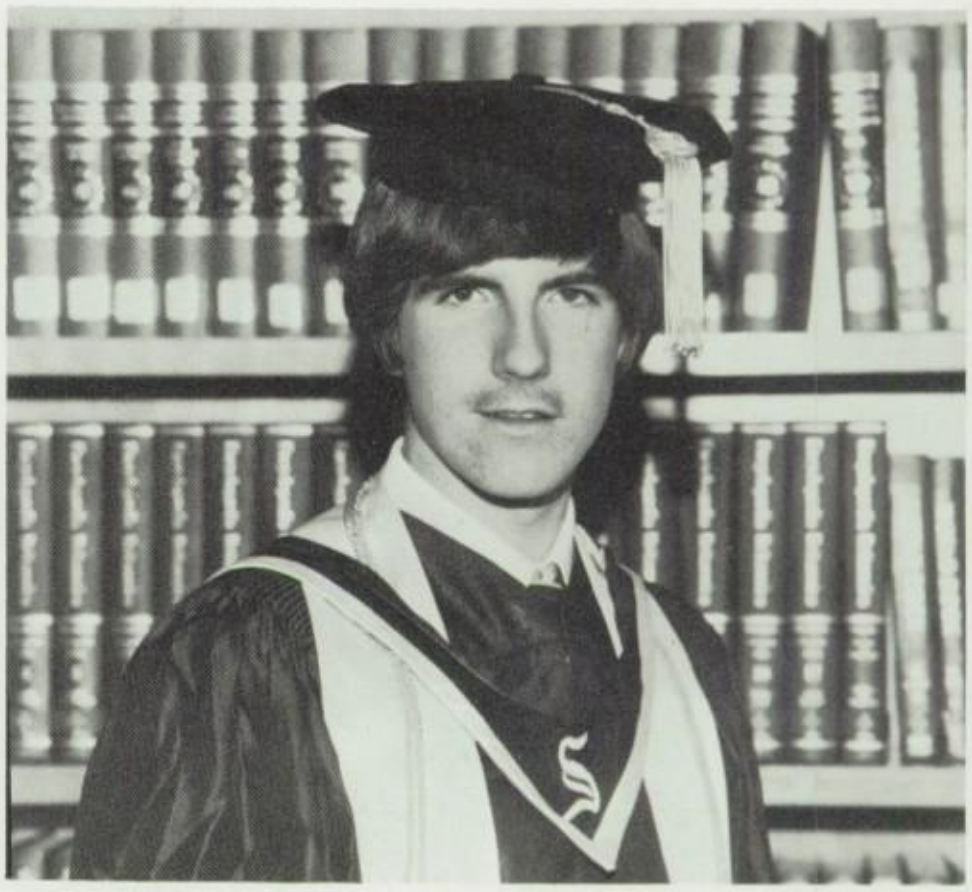


In school, I've distinguished myself in science, mathematics and German. I have also participated in student activities by serving as this year's Homecoming Chairman and a member of the Local Curriculum Steering Committee.

In my spare time, I enjoy mountain climbing, bike riding, running and war gaming. I am an active member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints and have served in various leadership positions in its youth program.

Next year I will attend Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah. I've been granted a full tuition Trustees' scholarship and plan to study Chemical Engineering. After my freshman year, I will serve a two year full-time mission for my church. Some of my long-term goals include becoming a chemical engineer, raising a family and being active in church and community affairs.

John Andersen



The best asset of Upland High, in my opinion, is its comparative liberty in contrast with the strict discipline of a catholic high school, which I attended for two years.

I enjoy studying subjects such as chemistry, physics and mathematics. I participate in sports such as varsity swimming and waterpolo, as well as school clubs. I enjoy many activities including backpacking, mountaineering, skiing, military simulations, role playing adventures and scouting.

I am going to attend the United States Air Force Academy and hopefully the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It is there that I plan to obtain a Doctorate in nuclear physics and then go on to do research in that field for the Air Force.

We sing as we remember all the happy, joyous years
A song of reverent duty as we stay our wisping
tears
All hail to Upland High!
All hail to Upland High!

Two roads diverged in the woods, and I-
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

Sandy,

You have gotten so much cuter since I last saw you, I can't believe it. We'll have to get together and go out or something.

See you this summer.
